Truman Completes First Lap Of Flight To Meet MacArthur

Talks May Be Held On Wake Island

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11 (AP)—President Truman stopped over here tonight to honor his only sister at ceremonies overshadowed by his prospective weekend conference in the Pacific with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

White House officials continued to keep the meeting place a secret but members of the presidential party said they understood Wake Island would be the scene of the history-making rendezvous.

Mr. Truman landed here at 6:37 p. m. (EST) at the end of the first lap of the 6,500-mile outward flight.

Sentimental Journey

His sentimental journey here was for the purpose of seeing Miss Mary Jane Truman installed tonight at Kiel Auditorium as worthy grand matron of Missouri for the Order of the Eastern Star, a Masonic auxiliary.

The President will remain for an Eastern Star luncheon tomorrow and take off again at 4 p. m. (EST) on the next lap of a grueling journey, two hours earlier than previously planned.

The whole world speculated on the international and political implications of his mission in which the two men will discuss Korea and other Far Eastern problems.

White House officials said the trip will dramatize the United States' role as a champion of freedom and peace in the Pacific.

Political Overtones

And it has heavy political overtones, coming, as it does, in the midst of the congressional election campaign in which:

1. Republican candidates have been sharply critical of Truman foreign policy in the Pacific.

2. Democratic candidates have made support of Truman foreign policy an issue in many districts.

The President will follow up the conference with MacArthur with major foreign policies speeches at San Francisco, Oct. 17, and before the United Nations General Assembly Oct. 27.

"It Didn't Surprise Me," Said Pop

Dan Smith, machinist at the Ford Motor Co. plant in Cincinnati, holds two-year-old twins as he and eight-year-old twins (left) beam at Mrs. Smith, who is holding the third set of twins born to them at Fort Hamilton Hospital, Hamilton, O., yesterday. "I was kinda' expectin' it," said Mr. Smith, who is the father of 10 other children.

CBS Color TV Plan Officially Adopted By FCC

Regular Operations To Be Started Soon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Columbia Broadcasting System's color television plan was officially adopted today as the national color system and the company announced plans for an early start on regular operations.

Selection of CBS color for exclusive commercial licensing was announced by the Federal Communications Commission, which disclosed that it had split 5 to 2 on the action.

The majority decision made final FCC's tentative decision of Sept. 1 to choose the Columbia system over rival systems developed by Radio Corporation of America and Color Television, Inc., of San Francisco.

No Color On Existing Sets

The commission noted again that CBS color is not "compatible" with present televising standards—that is, it cannot be picked up, even in black and white, by existing sets without the purchase of additional equipment. However, FCC asserted that the quality of Columbia color and its relative operating simplicity, involving the use of a motor-driven color-wheel, recommended it above the others.

RCA and CTI, which only two weeks ago asked for the opportunity to demonstrate late improvements in their apparatus before a final decision was made, had no immediate comment.

Court Action Possible

There was a general expectancy both within the commission and the industry, that the FCC action may be challenged in court, which could mean a considerable delay in actual operations. The readiness of color for presentation to the general public has long been in dispute.

However, CBS President Frank Stanton said in New York that his company "is confident that all segments of the industry will now unite to bring to the public this great advance in the television art and that within a few months color receivers and converters will be on the market."

Ships Ride Out Gulf Hurricane

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 11 (AP) — Ships unreported during Mexico's hurricane radioed today they had been able to ride out the storm without damage.

The Merchant Marine Bureau of the government reported that "all ships previously unreported are lying to."

Communication with the wind-buffeted Gulf coast was reestablished this evening. The Merchant Marine Bureau made contact by radio with the ships.

Some ships skirted the northern end of the storm and reached the port of Tampico safely. Tampico is 250 miles north of Veracruz, where the hurricane center passed inland early today. Among the ships in Tampico were the Norwegian "Bertha Brovig", 2,415 tons, and the Mexican tankers "Cuauhtemoc," "Minatitlan," "Nueva Orleans," and "Pemex."

Banana growers in the Tuxpam region north of Veracruz reported heavy damage to plantations.

U. S. Steel To Discuss Wages With CIO-USW

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11 (AP)—Industry leader United States Steel consented today to negotiations with the CIO United Steelworkers on the big union's wage increase demands but refused to discuss any other issues.

USW Secretary Treasurer David J. McDonald received notification that "Big Steel" will meet with union bargaining teams in Pittsburgh next Monday and will be ready then to reopen wage provision of its contract.

Similar wage talks are under way with some 35 other smaller steel companies.

Action Outlawing Communist Party Urged By Legion

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11 (AP)—The American Legion convention today recommended a constitutional amendment outlawing the communist party.

The convention, fired to a fighting pitch by some high-keyed oratory, approved a resolution proposed by the Legion's Americanism commission which stated:

The communist party is not a political party and is dedicated to the overthrow of the United States government by force.

All communists who are American citizens should be interned and tried as traitors; all communists who are not citizens should be treated as enemy spies.

The commission, headed by Archie Closson, Lodi, Calif., also urged continued investigation of all government personnel.

Two Republican senators and a congresswoman set the tone of the convention's biggest business day with bristling speeches.

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass) loosed a verbal broadside at Stalin, and Sens. George W. Malone of Nevada and Karl Mundt of South Dakota, also Republicans, gave both barrels to the Truman administration.

Calling Stalin "coward" and "murderer," Mrs. Rogers—receiving the Legion's distinguished service medal — gave a speech aimed at "Stalin and his Politburo."

"We will drive you from this earth," she promised.

Ingrid Resigns

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11 (AP)—Ingrid Bergman today resigned as co-guardian of the estate of her daughter, Pia, a legal step paving the way for the father, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, to assume custody.

Probe Uncovers Jersey-Saratoga Gambling Link

Witness Joe Adonis Listed As Missing

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 1(AP)—Senate crime probers began hearings here today and claimed to have uncovered a link between New Jersey gamblers and fellow-operators in New York's plush Saratoga County.

The hearing got underway without Joe Adonis, a key witness whose name figured importantly in the Jersey-Saratoga setup.

He failed to show up and the committee listed him as missing.

Adonis has been described by federal authorities as one of the nation's biggest gamblers.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, chairman of the Senate Crime Committee, told newsmen four New York businessmen testified they were wined and dined in a Lodi, N. J., gambling center where they dropped up to $14,000 apiece in 1948-49.

"A free steak, all the drinks you want and limousine service to and from the city," was the slogan that lured the businessmen from New York City across the Hudson River to New Jersey.

Kefauver said the men told of seeing 150 to 200 persons gambling nightly at the Lodi establishment—a converted barn.

They said their checks were endorsed by James Lynch and stamped "Max Stark special."

A Max Stark was sentenced to six months in jail last April after he was convicted of conspiring in New York state to violate New Jersey gambling laws. He is appealing the conviction.

Stark was accused of operating a multi-million dollar check cashing service for New Jersey gamblers.

The Senate declined to identify his businessmen-witnesses by name "for obvious reasons."

3 Children Die In Fire

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, Oct. 11 (AP)—Three small children suffocated today when fire damaged their two room home. Coroner Leo Williams said the father was at work and the mother was attending a movie.

Victims of the fire were Frank, 4; Elizabeth Ann, 3, and Patrick, 1, children of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Yowell.

Two Russian Resolutions For Maintaining Peace Are Accepted By United States

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 11 (AP)—The United States today accepted in principle Soviet proposals calling for five-power consultations on maintaining peace and for a speed up of measures to set up an international army. But the Amerianes made it plain that these two steps are provided for in the United Nations Charter and should have been taken long ago.

Soviet Foregin Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky formally presented two resolutions to the U. N. Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee. One recommended that, until the international army is created, the five powers—France, China, Britain, United States and Russia—should consult on joint action for maintaining international peace and security.

The second resolution recommends that the Security Council decide on measures for the rapid creation of the international armed force provided for in the U. N. Charter and for the effective operation of the military staff committee.

While accepting these two proposals, an American spokesman said the idea contained in them might be written into the preamble of a seven-power resolution containing Secretary of State Acheson's program against aggression. This resoultion now is being debated in the Political Committee and the seven-power plan sponsors are considering revisions which would meet several points raised by various speakers but would not take away any essential part.

Lester B. Pearson, Canadian foreign minister, who backed the seven-power plan in a strong speech today, told the committee earlier that the Russians should back up claims of peaceful intentions by actual peaceful deeds.

Chinese Reds 50 Miles Inside Tibet, India Reports Say

LONDON, Oct. 12 (THURSDAY) (INS)—Dispatches from India said today that Chinese communist troops have penetrated 50 miles inside the autonomous territory of Tibet.

A dispatch from Kalimpong delayed through Calcutta to the London Daily Telegraph said that Tibetans fighting in the snow-covered 15,000-foot Dongma pass stopped the communists who drove south from Changhai province.

The red advance was said to be regarded in Lhasa, Tibetan capital, as a preliminary communist push.

Alaska Swinging Toward GOP Side

JUNEAU, Alaska, Oct. 11 (AP) — Alaska swung toward the Republican side, on the basis of early returns today, in its "weather vane" legislative election.

It posed the question: Will it be true again that "as goes Alaska, so goes the nation."

Democratic leaders have contended that Alaska has supplanted Republican Maine as the nation's early-voting political barometer. Alaska gained a reputation in that direction by swinging from its usual Democratic majorities to give the Republicans a margin in 1946 and then swing back to the Democrats in 1948. The nation swung the same in November of both those election years.

E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, the territory's Democratic non-voting delegate to Congress, who is seeking re-election, was running up a more than two to one margin over Palmer Peterson, Anchorage Republican. In the 1948 election he had a nearly four to one final margin.

Youth Who Shot Two Girls Surrenders

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 11 (AP) — After hiding out in the north woods for four days and nights, Donald Cole, 18, surrendered to state police late today and calmly admitted shooting two girl friends.

"I just wanted to do something bad," the youth said.

He made the brief statement to Prosecutor James A. Henderson after he was brought to the Chippewa County jail here.

Cole shot and wounded the two girls last Saturday from ambush near a hunting cabin on Lake Superior 30 miles west of here. Most critically wounded was Pauline Parady, 14, paralyzed by a bullet that lodged in her spine. The other girl, Myrna Benson, 12, was shot in the abdomen.

Professor Says Columbus Was Johnny-Come-Lately

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11 (AP) — A Johns Hopkins University geographer believes Christopher Columbus was a Johnny-come-lately.

The man Americans will pay their annual homage to tomorrow as the discoverer of the new world in 1492 A. D. probably was two or three thousand years late, Prof. George F. Carter writes in the current issue of the "Southwestern Journal of Anthropology."

Dr. Carter suggests that the agricultural peoples of the Pacific made contact with the new world probably before 1,000 B. C. and perhaps as early as 2,000 B. C.

He bases his theory on the "known facts" that such plants as the sweet potato, yam, one type of hibiscus, cotton, Mexican poppy and certain weeds existed in both America and in Asia and some Pacific islands "long before any written record of man's having traveled between the two points."

Each of these plants, Dr. Carter writes, originated in one place and then turned up elsewhere, thousands of miles away. No plant originates twice, he points out.

"The answer to this puzzle," he concludes, "is that man did make such unrecorded ocean voyages—probably in elaborate, giant canoes. In addition to plants, ancient explorers from Asia could have brought to the new world such skills as hieroglyphic writings, metallurgy and weaving techniques."

Imports Of 'Red' Eggs Protested

SEATTLE, Oct. 11 (AP)—A warehouse full of dried eggs, imported from Communist China when the government already owns $115,000,000 worth, produced protests and explanations today.

The eggs—700 tons of them—were in a warehouse awaiting shipment to eastern bakeries. They arrived from Vancouver, B. C., after shipment from China in trans-Pacific freighters. More are on the way.

The protests came from Rep. Mitchell (D-Wash) and Charles J. Mentrin, president of the Washington State Egg, Poultry & Feed Council (AFL).

Mitchell wired President Truman and the Agriculture Department asking an inquiry in view of the United States government policy of buying eggs to support farm parity prices.

Mentrin said his council would complain to federal officials.

"That's certainly giving aid to an enemy," Mentrin said of the egg importation. "In addition the American taxpayer is getting hit again. Seven hundred tons of dried eggs represented 140,000 cases of shell eggs. That's 230-freight carloads of eggs."

The explanation: It's cheaper to buy dried eggs from China, even with an import tariff of 17 cents a pound.

$10-$14 Week Boost Sought By Rail Unions

Would Up Payrolls Around 600 Million

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Railroad unions representing more than a million employes formulated demands today for pay increases of 25 to 35 cents an hour.

A railroad spokesmen estimated they would add around $600,000,000 a year to the carriers payrolls.

A demand for a 35-cent hourly increase was decided on late in the day by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen for its 85,000 members. These are the men who fire and handle locomotives.

Leaders of the 15 unions in the non-operating branch of the industry had earlier set 25 cents an hour as their goal. They are the signalmen, clerks and other workers not actually engaged in running trains.

The 35-cent proposal by the firemen may also set the pattern for two other operating unions — the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors.

The non-operating unions estimated their demands, if met, would cost the railroads $400,000,000 a year. But a railroad spokesman figured it at $525,000,000 on the basis of 1949 employment — "even more" in view of probable larger payrolls this year.

A 25-cent increase for non-operating employes figures at $10 a week. The average weekly pay check for this group of rail workers now is $60.15.

A 35-cent increase for the 85,000 firemen and enginemen works out at $14 a week on top of the present average pay check of $65. The rail spokesman said this would mean $65,000,000 more a year in addition to $25,000,000 estimated as the cost of demands now under discussion for a 40-hour week at 48 hours pay.

The firemen's proposal was announced by David B. Robertson, brotherhood president, after three days of meetings here.

French Expect Fresh Assaults By Red Vietminh

SAIGON, Indochina, Oct. 11 (AP)—Battered French troops on Indochina's north frontier braced themselves today for new onslaughts by reinforced communist-led Vietminh battalions.

Weakened by the rebel Vietminh's greatest victory — the annihilation this week of the bulk of five and a half line battalions in a jungle trap northwest of Thatkhe — French border positions are buckling under new enemy pressure.

Fresh assaults are anticipated by an enemy which French officials say has been given new strength and fire power by training and equipment from the neighboring Chinese communists.

The successes of the Moscow-backed Ho Chi Minh forces in the past two weeks have given the Vietminh almost unchallenged control of more than 200 miles of frontier area with free access to Red Chinese supply sources and bases.

This has shaken the entire military balance that has existed between the warring French and the Vietminh.

French attention now is centered on the precariously - held North Indochinese post of Thatkhe. There is fear of another debacle along the bloodied colonial Route 4, scene of the latest French disaster, if the garrison is forced to retreat 35 miles southeast to the protection of the main frontier post at Langson.

Brake Inventor Dies

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Oct. 11 (AP)—Alvin J. Musselman, 77, inventor of a bicycle brake, a super balloon tire and a braking system for B-29 bombers, died today after three weeks illness.

3 Plane Crewmen Killed, 3 Newsmen Injured In Crash

TOKYO, Thursday, Oct. 12 (AP)—An Air Force "flying boxcar" crashed in a pre-dawn landing at a Southern Japan air base today. Three American crewmen were killed. Five men were injured, including three news correspondents.

The Air Force said the three injured correspondents are:

John Jefferson, Columbia Broadcasting System, injuries not listed.

John M. Colless, Reuters, the British news agency, badly shaken.

All were taken to a hospital.

Reds Lost All Heavy Equipment In South Korea

Extent Of Enemy Disaster Unfolds

TOKYO, Oct. 11 (AP)—Intelligence officers said today the North Korean army, cut to pieces in South Korea, had a greater firepower in terms of automatic weapons than any armed unit of any nation in World War II.

The full extent of the disaster which overtook the reds three weeks ago is only beginning to appear as American officers count the mountains of captured guns, ammunition and vehicles.

Lost All Heavy Equipment

The reds lost all their heavy equipment which had been moved south in an attempt to drive the United Nations forces into the sea. Nearly all this war booty was Russian made.

"They had enough firepower for a force three times their size by World War II standards," one intelligence officer said.

Before the U. N. landings at Inchon, 13 communist divisions—more than 130,000 men — were jammed against the Allied perimeter around Pusan in Southeastern Korea.

Then on Sept. 15 American troops landed far behind the communist lines, attacked and took Inchon, and drove inland toward Seoul, ancient capital of Korea.

No Stalin III Tanks Found

That drive drew a steel cord across the enemy supply arteries running from the north down to the perimeter.

At the same time the Eighth Army began to push, and suddenly exploded from the walls of the defense perimeter. Within two weeks a major red debacle took place south of th parallel.

Although there had been many reports that the biggest Russian tank—the Josef Stalin III, largest known in the world—had been seen in Korea, none was found, the intelligence officers said.

U. S. War Casualty Toll Increases To 24,163

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Official casualty listings in the Korean war today rose to 24,163 Americans killed, wounded and missing in action.

This was an increase of 3,407 in a week.

The total, an announced by the Defense Department, covers only those whose next-of-kin have been notified through Oct. 6. Thus the list is not up to date.

The list cited 3,614 dead, 16,289 wounded and 4,260 missing.

Pilot Forced Down In Own Back Yard

CANTERBURY, Eng., Oct. 11 (AP) —The port engine of an RAF Mosquito bomber conked out 4,000 feet above Dover today.

Pilot Officer Peter Nickoll belly-landed the machine into a field near here. He and the co-pilot stepped out of the wreckage unhurt.

The first person they met was Nickoll's brother.

Nickoll had come down in his own backyard.

Short-Wave Radio Stars Described To Scientists

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 11 (AP)—Radio stars, invisible and mysterious sending stations scattered all over the heavens, were described today at the National Academy of Sciences.

They are called radio stars because they send short-wave radio signals. These signals have no known meaning. They come from an invisible universe.

If the stations are stars they must be cold and dead because they emit no light and no telescope yet has been able to see one of them.

Sir Lawrence Bragg, director of the Cavendish Laboratory, Cambridge University, England, told about them in an interview, which supplemented his two talks to the academy today on progress in British science.

These stars all are far beyond the solar system. They are found both in the direction of the milky way with its massive collection of visible stars and out in spaces where stars are scarce.

Sir Lawrence said it is only a guess that radio stars are cold, solid bodies but he said if true they offer an explanation of radio signals.

Allied Troops Press Toward Reds' Capital

Yanks 75 Miles From Pyongyang

TOKYO, Thursday, Oct. 12 (AP) — U. S. 8th Army forces advanced deeper into North Korea today along a curving 135-mile front after wresting a key defense triangle from fiercely resisting Reds.

Eighth Army headquarters announced that Southern Korean troops near the center of the line captured the highway and railway hubs of Kumwha, Chowron and Pyonggang. The republic's soldiers pressed on northward this morning from their point of deepest penetration — Pyonggang, 28 miles above the 38th parallel.

Near the west end of the line, tank-supported American troops punched 12 miles into North Korea beyond the parallel to within 75 miles of the Red capital of Pyongyang. They were northwest of Seoul in the Kumchon area.

At the east end of the line, South Korean troops which captured the port of Wonsan fought a mile westward to within less than 95 miles of Pyongyang.

Stiff Opposition Reported

Forces at all three points of the line reported stiff Red opposition.

The Reds had been expected to hold the Pyonggang-Kumwha-Chorwon triangle at any cost. Ever since the Reds were ousted from war-wrecked Seoul and driven across the 38th, reports had been received that they were concentrating forces at Chorwon.

Chorwon, 16 miles north of the 38th and 65 miles southwest of Wonsan, is the left base of the triangle. The right base is Kumwha, 20 miles north of the parallel and 62 miles almost due south of Wonsan. Pyonggang, the apex of the triangle, is 28 miles north of the parallel and 50 miles southwest of Wonsan.

U. S. officers said the South Korean Sixth Division took the towns in almost blitzkreig fashion despite the bitter opposition.

U. S. officers doubted if the Reds had enough men and guns to check the march on Pyongyang.

Roads leading up from U. S. bases in South Korea were jammed with vehicles, guns, tanks and troops.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters reported the right flank of the attack had rolled two miles north of Yuga, a village 10 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Four Miles From Kumchon

Alongside the American troops were soldiers from Britain and Australia.

AP Correspondent Don Whitehead in the field quoted officers as saying there was only spotty resistance ahead as the U. S. Eighth Army went "on the move northward."

Reports to Eighth Army headquarters, however, described enemy resistance as strong on the main highway to Pyongyang.

On this front the Americans were fighting within four miles of Kumchon, the strategic road and rail center 11 miles north of the parallel.

All along the line the Americans were receiving the support of strong armored forces.

Far to the northeast, South Korean troops struck from the captured east coast port of Wonsan down the road to Pyongyang and promptly ran into stout resistance.

E. German Vote Farce, West Says

BERLIN, Oct. 11 (AP) — Germany's three Western Allied chiefs today told the Russians that next Sunday's East German elections are a farce, and blamed the Soviets for blocking German unity.

In identical letters, the three Allied high commissioners advised Gen. Vasily Chuikov, Soviet Control Commission chief, that the communist "elections" are the direct opposite of traditional democratic processes.

The elections, which offer a single list of "national front" candidates, 70 per cent communist, cannot be recognized either by the Western Allies or the West German federal republic, the letter said.

The communist government scheduled to roll into office after Sunday's voting cannot be recognized as representing the East Germans, the letter said, adding:

"The Soviet Union is committed under Potsdam x x x to the establishment of democratic government in Germany x x x and must bear full responsibility for obstructing the accomplishment of these objectives."

Professor Says Columbus Was Johnny-Come-Lately

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11 (AP) — A Johns Hopkins University geographer believes Christopher Columbus was a Johnny-come-lately.

The man Americans will pay their annual homage to tomorrow as the discoverer of the new world in 1492 A. D. probably was two or three thousand years late, Prof. George F. Carter writes in the current issue of the "Southwestern Journal of Anthropology."

Dr. Carter suggests that the agricultural peoples of the Pacific made contact with the new world probably before 1,000 B. C. and perhaps as early as 2,000 B. C.

He bases his theory on the "known facts" that such plants as the sweet potato, yam, one type of hibiscus, cotton, Mexican poppy and certain weeds existed in both America and in Asia and some Pacific islands "long before any written record of man's having traveled between the two points."

Each of these plants, Dr. Carter writes, originated in one place and then turned up elsewhere, thousands of miles away. No plant originates twice, he points out.

"The answer to this puzzle," he concludes, "is that man did make such unrecorded ocean voyages—probably in elaborate, giant canoes. In addition to plants, ancient explorers from Asia could have brought to the new world such skills as hieroglyphic writings, metallurgy and weaving techniques."

Two Russian Resolutions For Maintaining Peace Are Accepted By United States

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 11 (AP)—The United States today accepted in principle Soviet proposals calling for five-power consultations on maintaining peace and for a speed up of measures to set up an international army. But the Amerians made it plain that these two steps are provided for in the United Nations Charter and should have been taken long ago.

Soviet Foregin Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky formally presented two resolutions to the U. N. Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee. One recommended that, until the international army is created, the five powers—France, China, Britain, United States and Russia—should consult on joint action for maintaining international peace and security.

The second resolution recommends that the Security Council decide on measures for the rapid creation of the international armed force provided for in the U. N. Charter and for the effective operation of the military staff committee.

While accepting these two proposals, an American spokesman said the idea contained in them might be written into the preamble of a seven-power resolution containing Secretary of State Acheson's program against aggression. This resoultion now is being debated in the Political Committee and the seven-power plan sponsors are considering revisions which would meet several points raised by various speakers but would not take away any essential part.

Lester B. Pearson, Canadian foreign minister, who backed the seven-power plan in a strong speech today, told the committee earlier that the Russians should back up claims of peaceful intentions by actual peaceful deeds.

Chinese Reds 50 Miles Inside Tibet, India Reports Say

LONDON, Oct. 12 (THURSDAY) (INS)—Dispatches from India said today that Chinese communist troops have penetrated 50 miles inside the autonomous territory of Tibet.

A dispatch from Kalimpong delayed through Calcutta to the London Daily Telegraph said that Tibetans fighting in the snow-covered 15,000-foot Dongma pass stopped the communists who drove south from Changhai province.

The red advance was said to be regarded in Lhasa, Tibetan capital, as a preliminary communist push.

Alaska Swinging Toward GOP Side

JUNEAU, Alaska, Oct. 11 (AP) — Alaska swung toward the Republican side, on the basis of early returns today, in its "weather vane" legislative election.

It posed the question: Will it be true again that "as goes Alaska, so goes the nation."

Democratic leaders have contended that Alaska has supplanted Republican Maine as the nation's early-voting political barometer. Alaska gained a reputation in that direction by swinging from its usual Democratic majorities to give the Republicans a margin in 1946 and then swing back to the Democrats in 1948. The nation swung the same in November of both those election years.

E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, the territory's Democratic non-voting delegate to Congress, who is seeking re-election, was running up a more than two to one margin over Palmer Peterson, Anchorage Republican. In the 1948 election he had a nearly four to one final margin.

Youth Who Shot Two Girls Surrenders

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 11 (AP) — After hiding out in the north woods for four days and nights, Donald Cole, 18, surrendered to state police late today and calmly admitted shooting two girl friends.

"I just wanted to do something bad," the youth said.

He made the brief statement to Prosecutor James A. Henderson after he was brought to the Chippewa County jail here.

Cole shot and wounded the two girls last Saturday from ambush near a hunting cabin on Lake Superior 30 miles west of here. Most critically wounded was Pauline Parady, 14, paralyzed by a bullet that lodged in her spine. The other girl, Myrna Benson, 12, was shot in the abdomen.

Imports Of 'Red' Eggs Protested

SEATTLE, Oct. 11 (AP)—A warehouse full of dried eggs, imported from Communist China when the government already owns $115,000,000 worth, produced protests and explanations today.

The eggs—700 tons of them—were in a warehouse awaiting shipment to eastern bakeries. They arrived from Vancouver, B. C., after shipment from China in trans-Pacific freighters. More are on the way.

The protests came from Rep. Mitchell (D-Wash) and Charles J. Mentrin, president of the Washington State Egg, Poultry & Feed Council (AFL).

Mitchell wired President Truman and the Agriculture Department asking an inquiry in view of the United States government policy of buying eggs to support farm parity prices.

Mentrin said his council would complain to federal officials.

"That's certainly giving aid to an enemy," Mentrin said of the egg importation. "In addition the American taxpayer is getting hit again. Seven hundred tons of dried eggs represented 140,000 cases of shell eggs. That's 230-freight carloads of eggs."

The explanation: It's cheaper to buy dried eggs from China, even with an import tariff of 17 cents a pound.

$10-$14 Week Boost Sought By Rail Unions

Would Up Payrolls Around 600 Million

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Railroad unions representing more than a million employes formulated demands today for pay increases of 25 to 35 cents an hour.

A railroad spokesmen estimated they would add around $600,000,000 a year to the carriers payrolls.

A demand for a 35-cent hourly increase was decided on late in the day by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen for its 85,000 members. These are the men who fire and handle locomotives.

Leaders of the 15 unions in the non-operating branch of the industry had earlier set 25 cents an hour as their goal. They are the signalmen, clerks and other workers not actually engaged in running trains.

The 35-cent proposal by the firemen may also set the pattern for two other operating unions — the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors.

The non-operating unions estimated their demands, if met, would cost the railroads $400,000,000 a year. But a railroad spokesman figured it at $525,000,000 on the basis of 1949 employment — "even more" in view of probable larger payrolls this year.

A 25-cent increase for non-operating employes figures at $10 a week. The average weekly pay check for this group of rail workers now is $60.15.

A 35-cent increase for the 85,000 firemen and enginemen works out at $14 a week on top of the present average pay check of $65. The rail spokesman said this would mean $65,000,000 more a year in addition to $25,000,000 estimated as the cost of demands now under discussion for a 40-hour week at 48 hours pay.

The firemen's proposal was announced by David B. Robertson, brotherhood president, after three days of meetings here.

French Expect Fresh Assaults By Red Vietminh

SAIGON, Indochina, Oct. 11 (AP)—Battered French troops on Indochina's north frontier braced themselves today for new onslaughts by reinforced communist-led Vietminh battalions.

Weakened by the rebel Vietminh's greatest victory — the annihilation this week of the bulk of five and a half line battalions in a jungle trap northwest of Thatkhe — French border positions are buckling under new enemy pressure.

Fresh assaults are anticipated by an enemy which French officials say has been given new strength and fire power by training and equipment from the neighboring Chinese communists.

The successes of the Moscow-backed Ho Chi Minh forces in the past two weeks have given the Vietminh almost unchallenged control of more than 200 miles of frontier area with free access to Red Chinese supply sources and bases.

This has shaken the entire military balance that has existed between the warring French and the Vietminh.

French attention now is centered on the precariously - held North Indochinese post of Thatkhe. There is fear of another debacle along the bloodied colonial Route 4, scene of the latest French disaster, if the garrison is forced to retreat 35 miles southeast to the protection of the main frontier post at Langson.

Reds Lost All Heavy Equipment In South Korea

Extent Of Enemy Disaster Unfolds

TOKYO, Oct. 11 (AP)—Intelligence officers said today the North Korean army, cut to pieces in South Korea, had a greater firepower in terms of automatic weapons than any armed unit of any nation in World War II.

The full extent of the disaster which overtook the reds three weeks ago is only beginning to appear as American officers count the mountains of captured guns, ammunition and vehicles.

Lost All Heavy Equipment

The reds lost all their heavy equipment which had been moved south in an attempt to drive the United Nations forces into the sea. Nearly all this war booty was Russian made.

"They had enough firepower for a force three times their size by World War II standards," one intelligence officer said.

Before the U. N. landings at Inchon, 13 communist divisions—more than 130,000 men — were jammed against the Allied perimeter around Pusan in Southeastern Korea.

Then on Sept. 15 American troops landed far behind the communist lines, attacked and took Inchon, and drove inland toward Seoul, ancient capital of Korea.

No Stalin III Tanks Found

That drive drew a steel cord across the enemy supply arteries running from the north down to the perimeter.

At the same time the Eighth Army began to push, and suddenly exploded from the walls of the defense perimeter. Within two weeks a major red debacle took place south of th parallel.

Although there had been many reports that the biggest Russian tank—the Josef Stalin III, largest known in the world—had been seen in Korea, none was found, the intelligence officers said.

U. S. War Casualty Toll Increases To 24,163

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Official casualty listings in the Korean war today rose to 24,163 Americans killed, wounded and missing in action.

This was an increase of 3,407 in a week.

The total, an announced by the Defense Department, covers only those whose next-of-kin have been notified through Oct. 6. Thus the list is not up to date.

The list cited 3,614 dead, 16,289 wounded and 4,260 missing.

Pilot Forced Down In Own Back Yard

CANTERBURY, Eng., Oct. 11 (AP) —The port engine of an RAF Mosquito bomber conked out 4,000 feet above Dover today.

Pilot Officer Peter Nickoll belly-landed the machine into a field near here. He and the co-pilot stepped out of the wreckage unhurt.

The first person they met was Nickoll's brother.

Nickoll had come down in his own backyard.

Short-Wave Radio Stars Described To Scientists

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 11 (AP)—Radio stars, invisible and mysterious sending stations scattered all over the heavens, were described today at the National Academy of Sciences.

They are called radio stars because they send short-wave radio signals. These signals have no known meaning. They come from an invisible universe.

If the stations are stars they must be cold and dead because they emit no light and no telescope yet has been able to see one of them.

Sir Lawrence Bragg, director of the Cavendish Laboratory, Cambridge University, England, told about them in an interview, which supplemented his two talks to the academy today on progress in British science.

These stars all are far beyond the solar system. They are found both in the direction of the milky way with its massive collection of visible stars and out in spaces where stars are scarce.

Sir Lawrence said it is only a guess that radio stars are cold, solid bodies but he said if true they offer an explanation of radio signals.

Yanks 75 Miles From Pyongyang

TOKYO, Thursday, Oct. 12 (AP) — U. S. 8th Army forces advanced deeper into North Korea today along a curving 135-mile front after wresting a key defense triangle from fiercely resisting Reds.

Eighth Army headquarters announced that Southern Korean troops near the center of the line captured the highway and railway hubs of Kumwha, Chowron and Pyonggang. The republic's soldiers pressed on northward this morning from their point of deepest penetration — Pyonggang, 28 miles above the 38th parallel.

Near the west end of the line, tank-supported American troops punched 12 miles into North Korea beyond the parallel to within 75 miles of the Red capital of Pyongyang. They were northwest of Seoul in the Kumchon area.

At the east end of the line, South Korean troops which captured the port of Wonsan fought a mile westward to within less than 95 miles of Pyongyang.

Stiff Opposition Reported

Forces at all three points of the line reported stiff Red opposition.

The Reds had been expected to hold the Pyonggang-Kumwha-Chorwon triangle at any cost. Ever since the Reds were ousted from war-wrecked Seoul and driven across the 38th, reports had been received that they were concentrating forces at Chorwon.

Chorwon, 16 miles north of the 38th and 65 miles southwest of Wonsan, is the left base of the triangle. The right base is Kumwha, 20 miles north of the parallel and 62 miles almost due south of Wonsan. Pyonggang, the apex of the triangle, is 28 miles north of the parallel and 50 miles southwest of Wonsan.

U. S. officers said the South Korean Sixth Division took the towns in almost blitzkreig fashion despite the bitter opposition.

U. S. officers doubted if the Reds had enough men and guns to check the march on Pyongyang.

Roads leading up from U. S. bases in South Korea were jammed with vehicles, guns, tanks and troops.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters reported the right flank of the attack had rolled two miles north of Yuga, a village 10 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Four Miles From Kumchon

Alongside the American troops were soldiers from Britain and Australia.

AP Correspondent Don Whitehead in the field quoted officers as saying there was only spotty resistance ahead as the U. S. Eighth Army went "on the move northward."

Reports to Eighth Army headquarters, however, described enemy resistance as strong on the main highway to Pyongyang.

On this front the Americans were fighting within four miles of Kumchon, the strategic road and rail center 11 miles north of the parallel.

All along the line the Americans were receiving the support of strong armored forces.

Far to the northeast, South Korean troops struck from the captured east coast port of Wonsan down the road to Pyongyang and promptly ran into stout resistance.

E. German Vote Farce, West Says

BERLIN, Oct. 11 (AP) — Germany's three Western Allied chiefs today told the Russians that next Sunday's East German elections are a farce, and blamed the Soviets for blocking German unity.

In identical letters, the three Allied high commissioners advised Gen. Vasily Chuikov, Soviet Control Commission chief, that the communist "elections" are the direct opposite of traditional democratic processes.

The elections, which offer a single list of "national front" candidates, 70 per cent communist, cannot be recognized either by the Western Allies or the West German federal republic, the letter said.

The communist government scheduled to roll into office after Sunday's voting cannot be recognized as representing the East Germans, the letter said, adding:

"The Soviet Union is committed under Potsdam x x x to the establishment of democratic government in Germany x x x and must bear full responsibility for obstructing the accomplishment of these objectives."

Reds And Propaganda

Two issues of the magazine National Geographic have been banned by the Czech government on the ground that they contain anti-Soviet propaganda. It is hard for Americans to think of political propaganda and the National Geographic simultaneously. But it is equally hard for the communist mind to conceive of any human activity as lacking in propaganda significance.

Any musical composition, according to the present party line, is propaganda for something. If it is not Marxian propaganda, it must be enemy propaganda. Music is not only worthless but treasonable if it does not serve the party line. Biology is being modified, history is being rewritten. Naturally, geography cannot escape.

The Soviet Union and its satellites have already done a great deal to change geography. They have erased Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania from the map. They have changed the maps of Czechoslovakia, Poland, China, Romania, Germany — and, of course, Russia. Their most recent geographical exploit is not going too well in Korea.

Red geography is actually a very simple science. The people in all non-communist countries are subjected to exploitation and cruelty. Naturally they are miserable, ragged and hungry. If the National Geographic makes them appear plump, neat and happy, that is obviously anti-communist propaganda. Marxian truth is no longer absolute, and it becomes possible to entertain the heresy that there are two sides to some questions.

That is the kind of enemy the United States has. Every act of Americans, every word, is propaganda, for or against communism. When an American behaves as communism teaches that non-communists are fated to behave, that is good propaganda for communism. When Americans talk or act in the opposite pattern, they are making propaganda against communism. Americans may not know that, but the communists do. That is why they banned the National Geographic.

Dealing With Asia

There are continuing signs of change in the policies of the government with respect to the Asian nations. Fresh efforts are being made to find policy lines which will win the favor and confidence of those peoples. Can this be done without abandoning our own fundamental objectives in the region? It can if we cling to the establishment of peace and security as the basis of our aims.

We have made the error, and it is not certain that we are through with it, of confusing peace and security with stability. While proclaiming the need for economic advancement in Asia, we have acted on the presumption that political situations can be kept as they are, or restored as they were at some past time. Our effort to find security in Asia has come to be understood as an effort to maintain the old and familiar political systems.

No idea could be worse for our relations with the Asian peoples. They see economic advancement in simpler terms than do we, but they see it inextricably bound up with their political condition. To speak of change in one without change in the other is, to the Asiatic, the height of stupidity. That this is recognized in Washington is suggested by some of the current trends in policy for the Far East.

Another error, perhaps more of wishful thinking than of actual practice, is the notion that a policy for Asia can be firmly fixed in its details and precisely defined. Points on which we can be firm and precise are a desire for peace and for the security of individual nations, the purpose to understand the problems of Asian peoples and to help to find and bring about solutions acceptable to those peoples themselves, and the renunciation of imperialistic aims of any nature. In short, we can declare a policy of friendship toward any sympathy with the peoples of Asia, but the details of policy have to be subject to adjustment in changing conditions.

Against The World

There is stout encouragement for Western plans to oppose international aggression in the temper of the other nations of the world as shown by the voting on Korean questions in the General Assembly and Political Committee of the United Nations. There is a correspondingly cold and unvarying rejection of the Russian position. Those few independent nations which for some reason have declined to support the Western position have also declined to give Russia any aid or comfort. Russia and her satellites stand alone against the world.

This has not had much noticeable effect on the outpouring of Russian propaganda. But it must surely give pause to the Russian leaders. Like others with aggressive intent, they have counted on dividing the world into spheres of conflicting interests, and on obtaining their objectives by putting pressure on one sphere at a time and playing one against another. They were having fair success until the Korea incident.

The events in Korea cast the chilling threat of war over the world. The other nations have shivered in this chill and have realized that they want no part of a new great war. With one accord they have turned on the power which has shown itself willing to fire the first shot in war. All of the world, except the Soviet bloc, is united in the purpose to oppose aggression and to prevent war. This, if we seize it boldly yet with wisdom, may be the grand opportunity of all time to make peace secure in the world.

Medicine In Columbus' Day

COLUMBUS discovered America in an era of progress in many fields. The printing press was being introduced and there was a general revival of learning. Numerous reformers and revolutionaries were determined to make drastic changes and the combination made the Renaissance a period of incessant activity.

Medicine also was making a stronger bid for recognition. It needed to, because most men and women lived in poverty and filth. Cleanliness, hygiene, and sanitation were lacking. Furthermore, healing was still bound up with superstition, herb doctors, and quackery. The conscientious medico of that day was as eager to expand his world as was Columbus; the profession wanted more knowledge whereas Columbus was after an extension of travel and commerce.

The great universities of the old world had been built but their medical departments were a far cry from those that exist today. The students were the bosses and in this respect the schools were democratic, but too much so for their own good. The professors were hired by the year and students often wandered from one school to another to obtain the learning they thought necessary. As a result, some became wandering intellectuals; others, genuine vagabonds. They were tough and indulged in fagging and hazing that were coarse beyond conception. The curriculum was not extensive, consisting chiefly of anatomy and botany. There were no medial periodicals and because students were not given the benefit of bedside observation of the patient their training was exceedingly poor.

Tru the 15th century epidemics were rife, especially plague. The ravages of venereal disease stirred up enough indignation to close the common public baths for both sexes. Smallpox and measles appeared in this era. These maladies were first reported in Germany in 1493 one year after Columbus sighted America.

Altho there were many shortcomings in medical education, considerable progress was being made in hospitals. Many had been constructed before 1500; in fact, before the Reformation there were 77 in Scotland alone. Many of these fell into disrepute, as did numerous other northern hospitals after the religious influence disappeared.

The physicians also were a poor lot. According to William Clowes they were "no better than runagates or vagabonds . . . shameless in countenance, lewd in disposition, brutish in judgment and understanding." It was no wonder they were known as "tinkers, tooth drawers, peddlers, ostlers, carters, porters, horse and sow gelders, horse leeches, idiots, apple squires, broommen, bawds, witches, conjurers, soothsayers, rogues, ratcatchers, and proctors of spittle houses."

A few enjoyed a good reputation and it is these men who laid the groundwork for future medicine. Their ethics have been perpetuated into the profession that has now dedicated itself to the cure and prevention of disease.

TOMORROW: The diabetic should educate himself on the disease.

PYRIDOXIN

V. T. writes: What is vitamin B6 used for?

REPLY

This product, which is called pyridoxin, is used in deficiency diseases such as pellagra and beriberi when the other fractions of vitamin B do not help. It is said to be useful also in nerve and muscular disturbances. Animal experiments have led us to believe that the substance plays a role in the manufacture of hemoglobin and red blood cells and is essential for normal growth.

JITTERY AFTER INJECTION

H. Y. writes: When the dentist gives me a novocaine injection I become nervous and my heart beats fast. What causes this?

REPLY

CATARACT

H. T. writes: Is there more than one type of cataract?

REPLY

Yes: developmental and degenerative. They also are classified according to the part of the lens affected, their consistency [hard, soft, or fluid], and into partial and complete. In any case, opacity of the lens occurs.

POSITION DURING EXAM

R. N. writes: Why does a doctor, when listening to the heart with a stethoscope make you bend over slightly to the left?

REPLY

Because in this position it is easier to hear the sounds from the mitral valve.

EYES AND DIPHTHERIA

Mrs. W. writes: Could an attack of diphtheria in childhood cause myopia?

REPLY

This is unlikely, as myopia usually is inherited. The muscles of the eyes may become paralyzed, however, as a complication of diphtheria.

Insight Into Power Of Mafia In U. S. Given By Roll Call Of Its Leaders; Political Tieups Help Put Them Beyond Law

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — How a group of Italian-Americans have been able to dominate the big crime rackets of the nation, spreading murder and political corruption in their wake, is one of the least-known stories of the U. S. A.

The complete story may never be told. For it is locked behind the lips of men who have sworn to die rather than talk, and whose campaign contributions to big politicians have largely put them outside the law. Senator Kefauver of Tennessee is the only man, so far, who has had the courage to beard this gang of criminals.

Meanwhile, a roll call of their leaders, never before published gives important insight into the power and ramifications of the Mafia. The roll call begins in New York City with Frankie Costello, the man who carried a suitcase to Ellis Island on the morning his chief, Lucky Luciano, was deported back to Italy.

It is significant that Costello had enough power with the federal government so that he — and he alone — went to Ellis Island to see Luciano off. Newspapermen seeking to cross on the ferry to the island with Costello were barred.

Early in Costello's career he was financed by New York underworld boss Arnold Rothstein, whose records show a loan of $21,000 to Costello in 1928. Costello is known to have shared quarters with Tammany Hall politician Jimmy Hines at the 1932 Chicago Convention which nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Underworld Peacemaker

It was Costello, also, who made peace in the underworld after the "roaring 'twenties." He laid out $25,000 of his own money to call a convention of gangsters at the Hotel President in Atlantic City, where they allotted territories and cemented alliances.

Costello operated the slot-machine business through the Tru-Mint Novelty Company in New York City, then organized the Pelican Novelty Company in New Orleans. He also formed the Alliance Distributors with Phil Kastel, becoming the sole agents for King's Ransom Scotch whisky with royalties of $35,000 per month.

JOE ADONIS (real name Joseph A. Doto) of New York and New Jersey — Adonis also grew up in the bootlegging industry, mysteriously inherited most of the Brooklyn rackets after the murder of Frankie Uale, was a golfing partner of Lucky Luciano, Meyer Lansky and Jimmy Hines at Hot Springs, Ark., in the 1930's. Following repeal of prohibition, Adonis moved into the wholesale liquor business, is now active in the New Jersey rackets and recently muscled into the automobile business.

ANTONY CARFANO (Alias "Little Augie" Pissano) of New York and Florida — Carfano is tied closely with Joe Adonis, worked under him in Brooklyn, shared Adonis's inheritance of Frankie Uale's Brooklyn enterprises, now spends considerable time in Miami. Carfano's criminal history dates from 1916, when he was arrested for felonious assault. He was also once a fugitive on a murder charge, has been arrested for grand larceny, carrying concealed weapons and for violation of the Loafer Act.

VITO GENOVESE of New York and New Jersey — Genovese was Lucky Luciano's gunman. He gained notoriety helping Luciano terrorize tributes from New York's brothels, fled from New York to New Jersey and now is an important cog in the New Jersey Mafia. His criminal history dates back to April 15, 1917, when he was arrested in New York City for possessing a revolver and got 60 days. Since then his power has grown. He has been arrested for carrying a concealed weapon, felonious assault, homicide, disorderly conduct, burglary, petty larceny, and first-degree murder. Miraculously, however, he was acquitted of the murder charge.

JOE PROFACI of New York and New Jersey — Born in Italy Oct. 2, 1897, is married and has six children. He was arrested in Cleveland on Dec. 6, 1928 in a raid on a hotel room where the Mafia grand council was reportedly meeting. Thirteen revolvers were found in the room by Cleveland police. For many years he has been operating the Mamma Mia Importing Company in Brooklyn, which packs olive oil and jobs canned tomatoes. Has a police record in New York and Cleveland.

WILLIE MORETTI of New York City and Hasbrouck Heights, N. J. — A close associate of Frankie Costello, who is the godfather of Moretti's children; is now part of the ruling mob in New Jersey, and helped train Joe Sica, now a narcotics racketeer on the West Coast. Moretti's criminal history dates from 1913 and includes arrest for robbery, carrying concealed weapons, homicide and burglary, but no convictions.

MIKE LIMANDRI of New York City and California — Has important Mafia ties both in New York and on the West Coast, and the Narcotics Bureau has been after him as leader of the gang smuggling opium from Mexico to the United States. Limandri now spends the greater part of his time in San Bernardino, is close to the Mafia boss on the West Coast, Jack Dragna. His criminal history dates from 1935 when he was arrested in connection with shipment of morphine and counterfeit money through the mails. He was arrested again in 1939 by the Alcohol Tax Unit for operating a still. Each time he squirmed out of convictions.

Louisiana's Roll Call

PHIL KASTEL—Before the First World War, "Dandy Phil" Kastel was a night-club operator in Montreal. Migrating to New York City during World War I, he became a badger-game operator, emerged into the big time as the protege of Arnold Rothstein, once served a sentence for a security swindle in Fonda, N. Y., and came out to take up a partnership with Frankie Costello in various enterprises. Though not a Sicilian, Kastel has been adopted by the Mafia.

CARLOS MARCELLO (real name Carlos Minacora) of Meroro and Gretna, La.—Is the real boss of the Mafia in Louisiana. He was reported to have been picked for the job by Frankie Costello at a meeting in New Orleans' Black Diamond night club in 1947. Known as "The Little Man," Marcello is the No. 1 gangster and racketeer in Louisiana. Through strong-arm tactics he has established a virtual monopoly on criminal activity in that area.

Marcello is tied in with Costello and Kastel through the Beverly Country Club outside New Orleans in which he owns a 17 per cent interest, but seems to have equal voice with Kastel in the management. His brother, Peter, arrested on a marijuana charge in 1942, is floor manager. Marcello also purchased the New Southport Club in Jefferson Parish for $150,000, May 1, 1948. His partner is Victor Trepani.

Marcello's criminal record goes back to 1929, when he served a year and a day for a marijuana violation. Though not a citizen, the immigration authorities ruled on Dec. 3, 1938, that Marcello did not appear to be deportable. Yet he served flive years of a 9-to-14 year sentence for assault and robbery, later was granted a full pardon by Gov. O. K. Allen on July 16, 1935. Since his release from Atlanta Penitentiary, Marcello has been arrested four times, but has instituted such a reign of fear in New Orleans that few witnesses dare testify against him.

On June 14, 1950, for example, he led a group of strong-arm men into the El Rico Club in New Orleans and pistol-whipped Joe Almarico. Police officials, however, could get no one to talk, not even the battered Almarico. Marcello's holdings are fabulous and include dozens of bars, taverns, garages; also the Dixie Coin Machine Co., Jefferson Music Co., B. Robertson Distributing Co. and Fogarty's News Service. The Jefferson Music Company is supposed to be a front for various illegal enterprises.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH ALSOP

The New Look

TOKYO

AMERICAN forces have now crossed the Thirty - Eighth Parallel, and unless the enemy receives powerful external aid, the Korean war has entered its last phase. This simple fact, long forecast in this space, gives an entirely new look to the whole world situation.

On the still-existing problem of Soviet and/or Chinese intervention in Korea, there is very little that now needs to be said. If the Kremlin had been determined to win the Korean war, Stalin could have done so by sending in hardly more than a corporal's guard, dressed up in false whiskers to boot, at any time up to about a month ago. If the Kremlin had been determined not to lose its North Korean satellite, but over-estimated North Korean capabilities, Stalin could have arranged preventive occupation of North Korea by the Chinese armies on the Yalu River on D-day plus one after the Inchon landing.

Stalin took another of these obvious steps. Therefore, if either the Chinese or Russians now intervene, at this late date, with so much water already over the dam, it will mean only one thing. It will mean that the Kremlin positively, actively and knowingly desires to plunge the world into a third world war.

Fully Committed

Undoubtedly, now is the right time to intervene if another world war is what the Kremlin wants. Even for the Inchon landing, our forces in Korea were actually only reinforced by two Marine regiments plus the skeleton of an American division, the Seventh, with flesh put on it by incorporated South Korean infantry. But with the Third division now entering Korea, we are as fully committed as we conceivably can be. With everything here, and with the rest of the world undefended except by our strategic Air Force, this is the time for the Kremlin to strike if the Kremlin chooses.

Unless every sign to date has been fantastically misleading, however, the Kremlin will not choose. If so, the world situation will have a new look for a whole series of reasons. On the other hand, there will be the previously suggested effect on our allies and potential allies of the discovery that there is an element of "bogeyman" in the remorseless Soviet power which has so terrified them all.

On the other hand, and even more important, is the effect on our own estimate of the Kremlin's capabilities. As for the Kremlin's intentions, these were all too clearly revealed by the crudeness and the naked aggression of the North Korean attack. That showed us what the Kremlin would do if it could, in a very helpful mind-clearing way.

There can no longer be any doubt at all that the Kremlin propelled the North Koreans into war on the flat, unquestioning assumption that they would meet with no opposition except from the feeble forces of the government of Syngman Rhee. There can no longer be any question that this action was intended to be the first step in a much larger scheme of Asiatic and European conquest—but conquest on the cheap.

Kremlin Power Is Question

The question that has remained open, is whether the Kremlin possessed the power, or believed that it possessed the power, to carry through this scheme of conquest at all costs, even if the great prizes

Truman-MacArthur Parley Is Termed A Ten-Strike

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—President Truman made a ten-strike when he decided to have a personal meeting with General MacArthur. The contact will prove valuable in many ways.

Recently busybodies have been trying to stir up friction between the General and the White House. Inspired articles have appeared in the press by persons anxious to emphasize points of difference. Dispatches emanating from Tokyo have been cited to make it appear that the General in some way is playing a game trying to benefit the Republicans. All this is the veriest nonsense, but it has its influence behind the scenes in creating a standoffishness that is not conductive to smooth operation between the President and his top general in the Pacific.

Entirely apart from the above, the President undoubtedly has come to recognize that some of his emissaries to the Far East have not come back with a clear picture of what is in the General's mind. Douglas MacArthur knows more about the Far East than anybody in the military service, and he is entitled to present at first hand his views on what is strategically necessary to defend American interests there.

Can Exchange Ideas

The personal visit will afford an opportunity for such an exchange of ideas. It will be noted, however, that quite a sizeable entourage of advisers of the President is going along. Some of these advisers are more concerned with international politics than with considerations of military strategy. Mr. Truman will need all the horse sense he can muster—and he has a lot of it—to reach a decision as to what is a good course to follow with respect to the military and naval problems of the Far East.

The bald fact, for instance, is that Communist China is now controlled by Moscow. This means many new submarine bases and many air bases close to the Philippines and close to Japan. It is a brand new military dilemma for the United States, on both a short-range and a long-range basis. No man is better qualified to discuss the strategy that must be developed to meet the contingencies that can arise in the Pacific than General MacArthur.

The trip will naturally be appraised by the political minded as a piece of smart politics. During the 1944 campaign, the late President Roosevelt traveled to Hawaii to meet General MacArthur. It was played up in the press as a journey by the Commander-in-Chief. It so happens that Mr. Truman's prestige as commander-in-chief has been played down of late. So the trip will be useful poltically, too.

Coincident with these angles is the very important matter of developing more prestige for the United Nations. The U. N. selected General MacArthur as its commander in Korea, and it is important that, when Mr. Truman speaks before the U. N., he shall be abe to say that he discussed presonally some of the very issues about which the U. N. is concerned —namely, the restoration of Korea and the policies that must be followed when North Korea is fully conquered.

Will Get Attention

Mr. Truman, it has been announced, will make a foreign policy speech in San Francisco after he returns from his visit to the Pacific. This affords an opportunity to get nation-wide attention, as well as Pacific Coast attention, to the phases of foreign policy which have stirred up much opposition there.

The President may wish to explain what the attitude of the United States is going to be toward Red China in the future and what America's attitude must be toward any government which shows itself incapable of discharging international obligations and of obeying the principles of civilized intercourse among nations.

Communist China is being considered for admission to the U. N. Security Council after the Congressional elections—a move that may agitate also the matter of diplomatic recognition. There are observers who think Communist China can be weaned away from Moscow. The advice in that direction is vehemently challenged by others, who think that there can be no compromise with communism on any front. But these underlying issues, which are so difficult for any President to deal with, can be better understood when the military phases are thoroughly presented. This is something that top-level men in the Pentagon have often emphasized. Certainly the defense planners in the United States will feel much better satisfied after the Truman-MacArthur conference than would have been the case with a continuation of the exchanges by cable and press dispatches.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

WHENEVER I face elections, I become puzzled about how to vote, particularly for judges. Our freedoms depend upon our courts, upon the character of our judges. Those whom I am asked to vote for are, on the whole, mediocre persons, not particularly fit for judicial office. I should not like to have my future depend upon their experience and soundness of judgment. Of the half dozen candidates, I shall, unless I have some reason better than I know today, vote for only one, Charles D. Breitel.

It is a sad situation for the citizen. The bosses pick his judges. Why should I vote for a judge selected by such a person as boss Ed Flynn of the Bronx or someone similar to him? Why should any citizen be placed in that position? It is unfortunate enough that we are dependent upon these politicians for administrative and legislative candidates; it is a crime against our political structure that such men exercise so much power over our courts.

Some time ago, Mr. Justice Robert H. Jackson of the United States Supreme Court said:

"A disorderly, obstructive, contemptuous or defiant demonstration within the courtroom can only be charged to lawyers. The problem would be less difficult if it were due only to a purpose to discredit courts and judicial proceedings.

"But the more subtle danger is from the growing attitude that judicial control of the proceedings is a sort of tyranny, that a courtroom ought to be a cockpit without rules, the trial a free-for-all, into which the participants are free to throw anything they please."

An obvious demonstration of lawyers' contempt for the courts was given wide exhibition in the trial of the communists in Judge Medina's court, and this is undoubtedly the demonstration to which Mr. Justice Jackson refers. But what they did was unusual only in degree; many lawyers assume an attitude of disrespect in the courts for which there can be no excuse whatsoever. A client can be defended without disrespect.

The point is that this condition is bad enough when shyster lawyers use the courts to get publicity for themselves or to give the jury a vaudeville show, perhaps to impress clients and their families. It becomes increasingly dangerous to the preservation of American justice when the lawyers have real and abiding disrespect for the judges, when every informed person in the courtroom knows how the judge happened to be nominated, even how much he paid into a campaign fund or directly to the boss for the nomination. No one can prove that these things happen, even though they are frankly discussed in political circles.

I have sat with judges discussing judges and with lawyers discussing judges over these many years. It is one thing when members of bench and bar question the knowledge or wisdom of a judge; it is another when they speak in frank contempt of a judge's character and his associations.

Some have said to me that after a lawyer has made money, he often seeks honor and that some of these men, who as lawyers pursued dubious courses, make excellent judges once they have taken the vow, as it were. This seems a doubtful formula, although I have known three or four instances which might prove that a political judge could develop into a judicial philosopher.

The fact remains, however, that when a few county leaders meet in a restaurant to pick judicial candidates, they also make deals. They also arrange about receiverships and references and all sorts of benefits to favored lawyers. And when men are nominated who cannot be regarded as fit, whose very names on the ballot surprise the citizens, then obviously the bosses have not selected in the public interest.

It used to be that in some cities like New York, the parties united in the renomination of sitting judges. This practice has now been abandoned in favor of strict partisanship.

But then if the people do nothing about it, why should not the bosses do what they can get away with?

Reds And Propaganda

Two issues of the magazine National Geographic have been banned by the Czech government on the ground that they contain anti-Soviet propaganda. It is hard for Americans to think of political propaganda and the National Geographic simultaneously. But it is equally hard for the communist mind to conceive of any human activity as lacking in propaganda significance.

Any musical composition, according to the present party line, is propaganda for something. If it is not Marxian propaganda, it must be enemy propaganda. Music is not only worthless but treasonable if it does not serve the party line. Biology is being modified, history is being rewritten. Naturally, geography cannot escape.

The Soviet Union and its satellites have already done a great deal to change geography. They have erased Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania from the map. They have changed the maps of Czechoslovakia, Poland, China, Romania, Germany — and, of course, Russia. Their most recent geographical exploit is not going too well in Korea.

Red geography is actually a very simple science. The people in all non-communist countries are subjected to exploitation and cruelty. Naturally they are miserable, ragged and hungry. If the National Geographic makes them appear plump, neat and happy, that is obviously anti-communist propaganda. Marxian truth is no longer absolute, and it becomes possible to entertain the heresy that there are two sides to some questions.

That is the kind of enemy the United States has. Every act of Americans, every word, is propaganda for or against communism. When an American behaves as communism teaches that non-communists are fated to behave, that is good propaganda for communism. When Americans talk or act in the opposite pattern, they are making propaganda against communism. Americans may not know that, but the communists do. That is why they banned the National Geographic.

Dealing With Asia

There are continuing signs of change in the policies of the government with respect to the Asian nations. Fresh efforts are being made to find policy lines which will win the favor and confidence of those peoples. Can this be done without abandoning our own fundamental objectives in the region? It can if we cling to the establishment of peace and security as the basis of our aims.

We have made the error, and it is not certain that we are through with it, of confusing peace and security with stability. While proclaiming the need for economic advancement in Asia, we have acted on the presumption that political situations can be kept as they are, or restored as they were at some past time. Our effort to find security in Asia has come to be understood as an effort to maintain the old and familiar political systems.

No idea could be worse for our relations with the Asian peoples. They see economic advancement in simpler terms than do we, but they see it inextricably bound up with their political condition. To speak of change in one without change in the other is, to the Asiatic, the height of stupidity. That this is recognized in Washington is suggested by some of the current trends in policy for the Far East.

Another error, perhaps more of wishful thinking than of actual practice, is the notion that a policy for Asia can be firmly fixed in its details and precisely defined. Points on which we can be firm and precise are a desire for peace and for the security of individual nations, the purpose to understand the problems of Asian peoples and to help to find and bring about solutions acceptable to those peoples themselves, and the renunciation of imperialistic aims of any nature. In short, we can declare a policy of friendship toward any sympathy with the peoples of Asia, but the details of policy have to be subject to adjustment in changing conditions.

Against The World

There is stout encouragement for Western plans to oppose international aggression in the temper of the other nations of the world as shown by the voting on Korean questions in the General Assembly and Political Committee of the United Nations. There is a correspondingly cold and unvarying rejection of the Russian position. Those few independent nations which for some reason have declined to support the Western position have also declined to give Russia any aid or comfort. Russia and her satellites stand alone against the world.

This has not had much noticeable effect on the outpouring of Russian propaganda. But it must surely give pause to the Russian leaders. Like others with aggressive intent, they have counted on dividing the world into spheres of conflicting interests, and on obtaining their objectives by putting pressure on one sphere at a time and playing one against another. They were having fair success until the Korea incident.

The events in Korea cast the chilling threat of war over the world. The other nations have shivered in this chill and have realized that they want no part of a new great war. With one accord they have turned on the power which has shown itself willing to fire the first shot in war. All of the world, except the Soviet bloc, is united in the purpose to oppose aggression and to prevent war. This, if we seize it boldly yet with wisdom, may be the grand opportunity of all time to make peace secure in the world.

Medicine In Columbus' Day

COLUMBUS discovered America in an era of progress in many fields. The printing press was being introduced and there was a general revival of learning. Numerous reformers and revolutionaries were determined to make drastic changes and the combination made the Renaissance a period of incessant activity.

Medicine also was making a stronger bid for recognition. It needed to, because most men and women lived in poverty and filth. Cleanliness, hygiene, and sanitation were lacking. Furthermore, healing was still bound up with superstition, herb doctors, and quackery. The conscientious medico of that day was as eager to expand his world as was Columbus; the profession wanted more knowledge whereas Columbus was after an extension of travel and commerce.

The great universities of the old world had been built but their medical departments were a far cry from those that exist today. The students were the bosses and in this respect the schools were democratic, but too much so for their own good. The professors were hired by the year and students often wandered from one school to another to obtain the learning they thought necessary. As a result, some became wandering intellectuals; others, genuine vagabonds. They were tough and indulged in fagging and hazing that were coarse beyond conception. The curriculum was not extensive, consisting chiefly of anatomy and botany. There were no medial periodicals and because students were not given the benefit of bedside observation of the patient their training was exceedingly poor.

Tru the 15th century epidemics were rife, especially plague. The ravages of venereal disease stirred up enough indignation to close the common public baths for both sexes. Smallpox and measles appeared in this era. These maladies were first reported in Germany in 1493 one year after Columbus sighted America.

Altho there were many shortcomings in medical education, considerable progress was being made in hospitals. Many had been constructed before 1500; in fact, before the Reformation there were 77 in Scotland alone. Many of these fell into disrepute, as did numerous other northern hospitals after the religious influence disappeared.

The physicians also were a poor lot. According to William Clowes they were "no better than runagates or vagabonds . . . shameless in countenance, lewd in disposition, brutish in judgment and understanding." It was no wonder they were known as "tinkers, tooth drawers, peddlers, ostlers, carters, porters, horse and sow gelders, horse leeches, idiots, apple squires, broommen, bawds, witches, conjurers, soothsayers, rogues, ratcatchers, and proctors of spittle houses."

A few enjoyed a good reputation and it is these men who laid the groundwork for future medicine. Their ethics have been perpetuated into the profession that has now dedicated itself to the cure and prevention of disease.

TOMORROW: The diabetic should educate himself on the disease.

PYRIDOXIN

V. T. writes: What is vitamin B6 used for?

REPLY

This product, which is called pyridoxin, is used in deficiency diseases such as pellagra and beriberi when the other fractions of vitamin B do not help. It is said to be useful also in nerve and muscular disturbances. Animal experiments have led us to believe that the substance plays a role in the manufacture of hemoglobin and red blood cells and is essential for normal growth.

CATARACT

H. T. writes: Is there more than one type of cataract?

REPLY

Yes; developmental and degenerative. They also are classified according to the part of the lens affected, their consistency [hard, soft, or fluid], and into partial and complete. In any case, opacity of the lens occurs.

Insight Into Power Of Mafia In U. S. Given By Roll Call Of Its Leaders; Political Tieups Help Put Them Beyond Law

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — How a group of Italian-Americans have been able to dominate the big crime rackets of the nation, spreading murder and political corruption in their wake, is one of the least-known stories of the U. S. A.

The complete story may never be told. For it is locked behind the lips of men who have sworn to die rather than talk, and whose campaign contributions to big politicians have largely put them outside the law. Senator Kefauver of Tennessee is the only man, so far, who has had the courage to beard this gang of criminals.

Meanwhile, a roll call of their leaders, never before published gives important insight into the power and ramifications of the Mafia. The roll call begins in New York City with Frankie Costello, the man who carried a suitcase to Ellis Island on the morning his chief, Lucky Luciano, was deported back to Italy.

It is significant that Costello had enough power with the federal government so that he — and he alone — went to Ellis Island to see Luciano off. Newspapermen seeking to cross on the ferry to the Island with Costello were barred.

Early in Costello's career he was financed by New York underworld boss Arnold Rothstein, whose records show a loan of $21,000 to Costello in 1928. Costello is known to have shared quarters with Tammany Hall politician Jimmy Hines at the 1932 Chicago Convention which nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Underworld Peacemaker

It was Costello, also, who made peace in the underworld after the "roaring 'twenties." He laid out $25,000 of his own money to call a convention of gangsters at the Hotel President in Atlantic City, where they allotted territories and cemented alliances.

Costello operated the slot-machine business through the Tru-Mint Novelty Company in New York City, then organized the Pelican Novelty Company in New Orleans. He also formed the Alliance Distributors with Phil Kastel, becoming the sole agents for King's Ransom Scotch whisky with royalties of $35,000 per month.

JOE ADONIS (real name Joseph A. Doto) of New York and New Jersey — Adonis also grew up in the bootlegging industry, mysteriously inherited most of the Brooklyn rackets after the murder of Frankie Uale, was a golfing partner of Lucky Luciano, Meyer Lansky and Jimmy Hines at Hot Springs, Ark., in the 1930's. Following repeal of prohibition, Adonis moved into the wholesale liquor business, is now active in the New Jersey rackets and recently muscled into the automobile business.

ANTONY CARFANO (Alias "Little Augie" Pissano) of New York and Florida — Carfano is tied closely with Joe Adonis, worked under him in Brooklyn, shared Adonis's inheritance of Frankie Uale's Brooklyn enterprises, now spends considerable time in Miami. Carfano's criminal history dates from 1916, when he was arrested for felonious assault. He was also once a fugitive on a murder charge, has been arrested for grand larceny, carrying concealed weapons and for violation of the Loafer Act.

VITO GENOVESE of New York and New Jersey — Genovese was Lucky Luciano's gunman. He gained notoriety helping Luciano terrorize tributes from New York's brothels, fled from New York to New Jersey and now is an important cog in the New Jersey Mafia. His criminal history dates back to April 15, 1917, when he was arrested in New York City for possessing a revolver and got 60 days. Since then his power has grown. He has been arrested for carrying a concealed weapon, felonious assault, homicide, disorderly conduct, burglary, petty larceny, and first-degree murder. Miraculously, however, he was acquitted of the murder charge.

JOE PROFACI of New York and New Jersey — Born in Italy Oct. 2, 1897, is married and has six children. He was arrested in Cleveland on Dec. 6, 1928 in a raid on a hotel room where the Mafia grand council was reportedly meeting. Thirteen revolvers were found in the room by Cleveland police. For many years he has been operating the Mamma Mia Importing Company in Brooklyn, which packs olive oil and jobs canned tomatoes. Has a police record in New York and Cleveland.

WILLIE MORETTI of New York City and Hasbrouck Heights, N. J. — A close associate of Frankie Costello, who is the godfather of Moretti's children; is now part of the ruling mob in New Jersey, and helped train Joe Sica, now a narcotics racketeer on the West Coast. Moretti's criminal history dates from 1913 and includes arrest for robbery, carrying concealed weapons, homicide and burglary, but no convictions.

MIKE LIMANDRI of New York City and California — Has important Mafia ties both in New York and on the West Coast, and the Narcotics Bureau has been after him as leader of the gang smuggling opium from Mexico to the United States. Limandri now spends the greater part of his time in San Bernardino, is close to the Mafia boss on the West Coast, Jack Dragna. His criminal history dates from 1935 when he was arrested in connection with shipment of morphine and counterfeit money through the mails. He was arrested again in 1939 by the Alcohol Tax Unit for operating a still. Each time he squirmed out of convictions.

Louisiana's Roll Call

PHIL KASTEL—Before the First World War, "Dandy Phil" Kastel was a night-club operator in Montreal. Migrating to New York City during World War I, he became a badger-game operator, emerged into the big time as the protege of Arnold Rothstein, once served a sentence for a security swindle in Fonda, N. Y., and came out to take up a partnership with Frankie Costello in various enterprises. Though not a Sicilian, Kastel has been adopted by the Mafia.

CARLOS MARCELLO (real name Carlos Minacora) of Meroro and Gretna, La.—Is the real boss of the Mafia in Louisiana. He was reported to have been picked for the job by Frankie Costello at a meeting in New Orleans' Black Diamond night club in 1947. Known as "The Little Man," Marcello is the No. 1 gangster and racketeer in Louisiana. Through strong-arm tactics he has established a virtual monopoly on criminal activity in that area.

Marcello is tied in with Costello and Kastel through the Beverly Country Club outside New Orleans in which he owns a 17 per cent interest, but seems to have equal voice with Kastel in the management. His brother, Peter, arrested on a marijuana charge in 1942, is floor manager. Marcello also purchased the New Southport Club in Jefferson Parish for $150,000, May 1, 1948. His partner is Victor Trepani.

Marcello's criminal record goes back to 1929, when he served a year and a day for a marijuana violation. Though not a citizen, the immigration authorities ruled on Dec. 3, 1938, that Marcello did not appear to be deportable. Yet he served five years of a 9-to-14 year sentence for assault and robbery, later was granted a full pardon by Gov. O. K. Allen on July 16, 1935. Since his release from Atlanta Penitentiary, Marcello has been arrested four times, but has instituted such a reign of fear in New Orleans that few witnesses dare testify against him.

On June 14, 1950, for example, he led a group of strong-arm men into the El Rico Club in New Orleans and pistol-whipped Joe Almarico. Police officials, however, could get no one to talk, not even the battered Almarico. Marcello's holdings are fabulous and include dozens of bars, taverns, garages; also the Dixie Coin Machine Co., Jefferson Music Co., B. Robertson Distributing Co. and Fogarty's News Service. The Jefferson Music Company is supposed to be a front for various illegal enterprises.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH ALSOP

The New Look

TOKYO

AMERICAN forces have now crossed the Thirty - Eighth Parallel, and unless the enemy receives powerful external aid, the Korean war has entered its last phase. This simple fact, long forecast in this space, gives an entirely new look to the whole world situation.

On the still-existing problem of Soviet and/or Chinese intervention in Korea, there is very little that now needs to be said. If the Kremlin had been determined to win the Korean war, Stalin could have done so by sending in hardly more than a corporal's guard, dressed up in false whiskers to boot, at any time up to about a month ago. If the Kremlin had been determined not to lose its North Korean satellite, but over-estimated North Korean capabilities, Stalin could have arranged preventive occupation of North Korea by the Chinese armies on the Yalu River on D-day plus one after the Inchon landing.

Stalin took another of these obvious steps. Therefore, if either the Chinese or Russians now intervene, at this late date, with so much water already over the dam, it will mean only one thing. It will mean that the Kremlin positively, actively and knowingly desires to plunge the world into a third world war.

Fully Committed

Undoubtedly, now is the right time to intervene if another world war is what the Kremlin wants. Even for the Inchon landing, our forces in Korea were actually only reinforced by two Marine regiments plus the skeleton of an American division, the Seventh, with flesh put on it by incorporated South Korean infantry. But with the Third division now entering Korea, we are as fully committed as we conceivably can be. With everything here, and with the rest of the world undefended except by our strategic Air Force, this is the time for the Kremlin to strike if the Kremlin chooses.

Unless every sign to date has been fantastically misleading, however, the Kremlin will not choose. If so, the world situation will have a new

Truman-MacArthur Parley Is Termed A Ten-Strike

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—President Truman made a ten-strike when he decided to have a personal meeting with General MacArthur. The contact will prove valuable in many ways.

Recently busybodies have been trying to stir up friction between the General and the White House. Inspired articles have appeared in the press by persons anxious to emphasize points of difference. Dispatches emanating from Tokyo have been cited to make it appear that the General in some way is playing a game trying to benefit the Republicans. All this is the veriest nonsense, but it has its influence behind the scenes in creating a standoffishness that is not conductive to smooth operation between the President and his top general in the Pacific.

Entirely apart from the above, the President undoubtedly has come to recognize that some of his emissaries to the Far East have not come back with a clear picture of what is in the General's mind. Douglas MacArthur knows more about the Far East than anybody in the military service, and he is entitled to present at first hand his views on what is strategically necessary to defend American interests there.

Can Exchange Ideas

The personal visit will afford an opportunity for such an exchange of ideas. It will be noted, however, that quite a sizeable entourage of advisers of the President is going along. Some of these advisers are more concerned with international politics than with considerations of military strategy. Mr. Truman will need all the horse sense he can muster—and he has a lot of it—to reach a decision as to what is a good course to follow with respect to the military and naval problems of the Far East.

The bald fact, for instance, is that Communist China is now controlled by Moscow. This means many new submarine bases and many air bases close to the Philippines and close to Japan. It is a brand new military dilemma for the United States, on both a short-range and a long-range basis. No man is better qualified to discuss the strategy that must be developed to meet the contingencies that can arise in the Pacific than General MacArthur.

The trip will naturally be appraised by the political minded as a piece of smart politics. During the 1944 campaign, the late President Roosevelt traveled to Hawaii to meet General MacArthur. It was played up in the press as a journey by the Commander-in-Chief. It so happens that Mr. Truman's prestige as commander-in-chief has been played down of late. So the trip will be useful poltically, too.

Coincident with these angles is the very important matter of developing more prestige for the United Nations. The U. N. selected General MacArthur as its commander in Korea, and it is important that, when Mr. Truman speaks before the U. N., he shall be abe to say that he discussed presonally some of the very issues about which the U. N. is concerned —namely, the restoration of Korea and the policies that must be followed when North Korea is fully conquered.

Will Get Attention

Mr. Truman, it has been announced, will make a foreign policy speech in San Francisco after he returns from his visit to the Pacific. This affords an opportunity to get nation-wide attention, as well as Pacific Coast attention, to the phases of foreign policy which have stirred up much opposition there.

The President may wish to explain what the attitude of the United States is going to be toward Red China in the future and what America's attitude must be toward any government which shows itself incapable of discharging international obligations and of obeying the principles of civilized intercourse among nations.

Communist China is being considered for admission to the U. N. Security Council after the Congressional elections—a move that may agitate also the matter of diplomatic recognition. There are observers who think Communist China can be weaned away from Moscow. The advice in that direction is vehemently challenged by others, who think that there can be no compromise with communism on any front. But these underlying issues, which are so difficult for any President to deal with, can be better understood when the military phases are thoroughly presented. This is something that top-level men in the Pentagon have often emphasized. Certainly the defense planners in the United States will feel much better satisfied after the Truman-MacArthur conference than would have been the case with a continuation of the exchanges by cable and press dispatches.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

WHENEVER I face elections, I become puzzled about how to vote, particularly for judges. Our freedoms depend upon our courts, upon the character of our judges. Those whom I am asked to vote for are, on the whole, mediocre persons, not particularly fit for judicial office. I should not like to have my future depend upon their experience and soundness of judgment. Of the half dozen candidates, I shall, unless I have some reason better than I know today, vote for only one, Charles D. Breitel.

It is a sad situation for the citizen. The bosses pick his judges. Why should I vote for a judge selected by such a person as boss Ed Flynn of the Bronx or someone similar to him? Why should any citizen be placed in that position? It is unfortunate enough that we are dependent upon these politicians for administrative and legislative candidates; it is a crime against our political structure that such men exercise so much power over our courts.

Some time ago, Mr. Justice Robert H. Jackson of the United States Supreme Court said:

"A disorderly, obstructive, contemptuous or defiant demonstration within the courtroom can only be charged to lawyers. The problem would be less difficult if it were due only to a purpose to discredit courts and judicial proceedings.

"But the more subtle danger is from the growing attitude that look for a whole series of reasons. On the other hand, there will be the previously suggested effect on our allies and potential allies of the discovery that there is an element of "bogeyman" in the remorseless Soviet power which has so terrified them all.

On the other hand, and even more important, is the effect on our own estimate of the Kremlin's capabilities. As for the Kremlin's intentions, these were all too clearly revealed by the crudeness and the naked aggression of the North Korean attack. That showed us what the Kremlin would do if it could, in a very helpful mind-clearing way.

There can no longer be any doubt at all that the Kremlin propelled the North Koreans into war on the flat, unquestioning assumption that they would meet with no opposition except from the feeble forces of the government of Syngman Rhee. There can no longer be any question that this action was intended to be the first step in a much larger scheme of Asiatic and European conquest—but conquest on the cheap.

Kremlin Power Is Question

The question that has remained open is whether the Kremlin possessed the power, or believed that it possessed the power, to carry through this scheme of conquest at all costs, even if the great prizes judicial control of the proceedings is a sort of tyranny, that a courtroom ought to be a cockpit without rules, the trial a free-for-all, into which the participants are free to throw anything they please."

An obvious demonstration of lawyers' contempt for the courts was given wide exhibition in the trial of the communists in Judge Medina's court, and this is undoubtedly the demonstration to which Mr. Justice Jackson refers. But what they did was unusual only in degree; many lawyers assume an attitude of disrespect in the courts for which there can be no excuse whatsoever. A client can be defended without disrespect.

The point is that this condition is bad enough when shyster lawyers use the courts to get publicity for themselves or to give the jury a vaudeville show, perhaps to impress clients and their families. It becomes increasingly dangerous to the preservation of American justice when the lawyers have real and abiding disrespect for the judges, when every informed person in the courtroom knows how the judge happened to be nominated, even how much he paid into a campaign fund or directly to the boss for the nomination. No one can prove that these things happen, even though they are frankly discussed in political circles.

I have sat with judges discussing judges and with lawyers discussing judges over these many years. It is one thing when members of bench and bar question the knowledge or wisdom of a judge; it is another when they speak in frank contempt of a judge's character and his associations.

Some have said to me that after a lawyer has made money, he often seeks honor and that some of these men, who as lawyers pursued dubious courses, make excellent judges once they have taken the vow, as it were. This seems a doubtful formula, although I have known three or four instances which might prove that a political judge could develop into a judicial philosopher.

The fact remains, however, that when a few county leaders meet in a restaurant to pick judicial candidates, they also make deals. They also arrange about receiverships and references and all sorts of benefits to favored lawyers. And when men are nominated who cannot be regarded as fit, whose very names on the ballot surprise the citizens, then obviously the bosses have not selected in the public interest.

It used to be that in some cities like New York, the parties united in the renomination of sitting judges. This practice has now been abandoned in favor of strict partisanship.

But then if the people do nothing about it, why should not the bosses do what they can get away with?

Doctors Are To Register Here Monday

The registration of doctors, dentists and veterinarians for duty in the armed forces will be held Monday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. at draft board headquarters in the Union Street County Building, according to P. Emmett Fahey, clerk-coordinator.

Required to register will be "every male person who participated as a student in the Army or Navy specialized training programs, or was deferred from service during World War II for the purpose of pursuing a course of instruction leading to education in a medical, dental or allied specialist category, and has had less than 21 months of active duty in the Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard or Public Health Service."

Fahey was advised that the "allied specialist categories" will include, but will not be limited to, veterinarians, optometrists, pharmacists and osteopaths.

Falling in line for registration will be those who have received from any school, college, university or similar institution of learning one or more degrees of bachelor of medicine, doctor of medicine, doctor of dental surgery, doctor of medical dentistry, doctor of veterinany surgery and doctor of veterinary medicine.

Also to register will be men who are not members of any reserve component of the Armed Forces and those who have not reached their fiftieth birthday.

Persons who receive medical degrees after October 16 will be registered the day after they receive a degree or within five days thereafter. The same regulation stands for medical men entering the country.

Three Area Enlistees Leave For Army Service

Leaving here yesterday for induction into the Army were three area enlistees, according to Master Sgt. Clarence Biehn of the local Army Recruiting Office.

Slated to go to Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas, for Air Force basic training are John J. Davis, 23, of 142 Center Street, Frostburg, and Isaac A. Stakem, 20, of 16 East Main Street, Lonaconing.

Davis is an Air Force veteran, while Stakem has not had previous service. Both have enlisted for four years.

Area Soldier Killed In Korea

Pfc. Douglas L. Welch, 20, son of Mr .and Mrs. Harry H. Welch, has been killed in Korea, according to casualty reports issued yesterday by the Department of Defense. His father is employed by the B. and O. Railroad in Keyser, W. Va., and his mother lives in Spokane, Wash.

Pfc. Welch was killed September 21 while fighting with the 35th Division. In addition to his parents, he leaves three sisters, Mrs. Wanda Stevens and Mrs. Yvonne Biggs, Westernport, and Mrs. Beverly Suttle, Lost Creek, W. Va., and four brothers, Keith B. Welch, USN, and Adrian Welch, USAF, both stationed at Springfield, Mass.; Kermit B. Welch, Zaneville, Ohio, and Tyrone Welch, Keyser.

4 More Bands Added To North End Parade

Officials of the North End Playground Association have received notices from four more musical organizations of their intentions to participate in the Halloween Parade for children Thursday, October 26.

Mrs. Joseph E. Mackert, chairman of the association's publicity committee, said in addition to the VFW drum and bugle corps, the Loyal Order of Moose Toonerville Band, the Junior and Senior bands of Allegany High School and the drum and bugle corps of Fulton Myers Post, American Legion, will march in the parade.

The Sad Sacks, comedy team of Lonaconing's VFW Post, will also take part in the festivities, Mrs. Mackert said.

A meeting of the parade and donations committees as well as parade marshals will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in the playground field house.

NEW YORK (INS)

SIDEGLANCES at celebrities: With the standard exception of Winchell there's nobody who can swing more muscularly than Robert Montgomery, the well-scrubbed DP from Hollywood.

His years of shaking cocktails in Hollywood films failed to make him punch drunk, a phenomen which medical men should study. He kept the good tough intelligence that had sent him to sea and into cheaper jobs when his family's fortune melted, and the gumption to fight back against such Hollywood highjackers as Willie Bioff and the trade paper goons who extract tribute from the frightened hams in the way of personal advertisements.

However, not even his fine war record (he drove an ambulance before we got in and was a PT-boat skipper after we made it) seriously picture of him as a drawing room altered in the public's mind the fop who talked just like Freddie Lonsdale wrote the words.

People even forgot that he demanded and was grudgingly given the role of a psycho with a penchant for murdering nice old ladies, or that he played a tough top role (and helped to direct) a fine warm film written by Bill White and the late Spig Weed, "They Were Expendable."

• — • — •

Matter of fact, to this day the stockingless young lady-tramps who infest the exits of Broadway's theaters and radio foundries still hang to his coat sleeves. And one nice old lady in Boston, hearing him denouncing Frank Costello on the air, wrote in to tell him that if Costello were deported, Abbott should be sent with him.

Montgomery directs a distinguished TV show that threatens to sound the death knell of the horse as TV's outstanding actor, and advises NBC in other matters. But it is his Thursday night radio commentary which sees him throw what might be called his Thursday punch.

His hat sponsor has covered him with a $500,000 libel-insurance policy, only $200,000 of which could be placed in this country. Lloyd's took the rest. As far as we know, he has not been sued — though he is a name-caller in the tradition of Steffens, Pegler and Winchell, an arresting parlay.

He let all his guns go at Costello, Erickson and other figures associated to the shadow world. Since his return from Germany, he has risked censure in some circles by demanding the re-arming of that portion of the land held by the Western Powers — and that such re-arming must be identified as what it is: An anti-Soviet and anti-Communist move for the protection of Western Europe and ourselves.

• — • — •

He has gone after Dean Acheson with what amounts to a fungo bat, accusing him of working toward the seating of a Red China delegation in UN. After slugging Acheson, Montgomery hits Trygve Lie on the follow through. "Acheson and Lie are two appeasers in a pod," he said on last week's show.

Legion Plans Dances

Plans were formulated Tuesday night at the regular meeting of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, for dances and open house celebrations after the Halloween and Armistice Day parades here.

The post inaugurated its membership campaign for 1951 October 1, and Robert Wilson, membership chairman, reported 155 enrolled to date.

Matter Of Fact

could not be bought at bargain prices. This is the measure of the Kremlin's capabilities.

If the Kremlin accepts the loss of a satellite, as a poor pawn risked and taken in the world power-game, it means that we have time. It emphatically does not mean that we can forget the lesson of Korea, it emphatically does not mean that we can sink back into complacency while the Soviet Union continues to rearm and the Kremlin waits the chance for another, more sure aggression. But it does mean that if we now muster all our energies to build the Western strength that we forgot to build, we may have time for the job. With all-out effort, we may be able to achieve an effective, deterrent Western defense before the Kremlin is ready for another attack.

So dreadful has been our situation, so terrible has been our peril, that even this has been in serious doubt, and still is in partial doubt. But the immediate peril is diminishing, and may soon vanish altogether.

We cannot abandon vital positions for specious reasons. We cannot stop rearming. We cannot let ourselves worry about the heavy cost. We must go forward in the time we now have, until we achieve solid strength. Then, and only then, may we relax.

Korea, which is the worst mistake the Kremlin ever made, and a graver mistake than Hitler was ever guilty of, has set our feet on the hard road. It has also shown that the road, though hard, is almost surely safe. It has finally shown that any other road is a quick trip to suicide. In all these senses, despite the heavy cost in blood and treasure, Korea has been a net gain for America. This is the best way this reporter can sum up the meaning of Korea, as he prepares to return to the United States.

On The Line

Montgomery sympathized with Harold Stassen's efforts to bring Stalin back into direct communication with representatives of the West, via a meeting with Stassen and cerain well-known Americans.

"But do you seriously believe that Josef Stalin will make an equally sincere effort in the same direction?" he asked Stassen in an "open letter" last week. "Do you seriously believe that the world any longer can place its faith in a pledge of peaceful cooperation by Stalin?

"My mind goes back, Harold, to a remark you made some years ago. You summed up your definition of aggression in this way — quote — No Philadelphia lawyer can define aggression but any child can recognize it when it comes."

The eventually-punctured William Drury, former Chicago police captain, wrote to Montgomery not long before the murder. Montgomery has revealed what was in the letter, and since has asked "Chicago's richest cop, Capt. Dan Gilbert . . . who has stashed away $300,000" why Leonard Patrick, David Yaras and Willie Block have not been arrested in the murder of James Ragen, the racing news service boss.

Good, tough-talking man, this fellow who lingers in the memory of movie fans as a fellow mixing a cocktail. Curious, too, for he drinks mainly seltzer-on-the-rocks.

The four top scores of all players, who have played in 4, 5, and 6 Thursday night sessions, starting September 14 to and including October 19, will be eligible for the extra Master Points as well as a special prize.

Kibitzers or anyone who enjoys watching duplicate bridge are at all times welcome at any Thursday night session.

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON

JOHN "Inside" Gunther entertained guests at dinner the other night by taking them "inside" Gen. MacArthur. . . Some of us hadn't realized, for instance, that the Supreme Commander spends at least two hours a day (and his day is pretty jammed) talking and playing with his adored, only son. . . This little fellow has never been inside a U. S. school room. . . In fact, knows very few children of his own age. . .

AUSTINE

No did a lot of us know that during his entire stay in Japan, MacArthur has never once gone out to a dinner party. . . At luncheons which last from 1:30 to 3:30 MacArthur receives visiting celebrities, foreign diplomats and, in other words, "keeps in touch" socially. . . He almost invariably dines alone with Mrs. MacArthur. . . Few Americans would believe that he's never met the Empress of Japan, nor has Mrs. MacArthur. . . That he's only met about 15 Japanese people. . . Kept himself aloof because the Orientals respect him more than if he were palsy-walsy. . . The few Japanese statesmen he does see (equivalents to U. S. Speaker of the House, President of the Senate, Secretary of State, etc.) all funnel information to MacArthur steadily. . . His fellow Americans in Japan call him "The Other Emperor" because of the all-powerful, King-size, unique-in-history position he holds.

Now that the last Congressional coattail has sailed out the door, and the clouds of dust and cigar smoke have died down, we can take a look at some of the bills Congress did not get time to pass before departing:

A bill for a lottery run by the Post Office Department. . . 50 per cent would go for war expenditures. . . The rest to the winners. . . It was thought up by Democratic Congresman Clemente of N. Y.

A South Dakota Congressman wanted to put a bill through to direct the Secretary of Agriculture to continue research on rain-making.

An academy like West Point, only for State Dept. diplomats, was the brain child of Rep. Russell Mack of Washington State.

Rep. Lane of Massachusetts wanted a shrine built on what is left of the battleship Arizona which lies on the bottom of Pearl Harbor. . . The shrine was to be similar to the Statute of Liberty.

Another Congressman wanted a tomb for the unknown soldier of the American Revolution.

An Act of Congress, however, did move the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone and the Chasm of the Colorado.

This was not an engineering project but paintings. . . A bill was passed to have both pictures moved from the third floor of the Capitol to the Dept. of the Interior. . . So they could be better seen.

Law requires that Congress pass another law to move any painting or statute from one government building to another.

Last time such a law passed, back in 1926, a painting called "First Fight of Ironclads Monitor and Merrimac" was moved to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Congressmen can move paintings and statutes but November may see the voters moving some members of Congress—right out of office! . . . No bill needed.

One recipe for killing time while sweating it out, or just enduring the long hours of waiting inevitable in war for every soldier, was suggested by a Marine officer I talked with at the Army-Navy Club the other afternoon.

"I do all my post-war planning during these periods of waiting. I think up ideas I want to carry out when I get back home. Then, in minute detail, I write out all my brainstorms and send them to my wife. She keeps them in a book ready for me. I try to present each plan so simply my wife could develop most of the ideas and follow them through herself. That's extra insurance for her in case I don't get back."

A conservative Boston banking family recently moved to town and rented the Georgetown house which belongs to a footlose and fancy-figured Washington widow. . . The family also inherited her jewel of a maid. . . Everything about "the jewel" indicated they had a "find" until she sailed into their bedroom the first morning waving a tray, decanter and two glasses and chanting cheerily:

"You-all ready for your little pick-me-up?"

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

HOW MUCH should you spend on a winter coat? Unless you have an unlimited budget, my experts who have shopped the fall market say you should allot no less than one third of your entire season's clothing allowance for this most important of all wardrobe items.

Statistics show that most women do not spend quite that much on coats. I suspect that some girls skimp on a coat to allow for an extra dress or extraneous gee-gaw. That's a mistake that's never made by the woman who is always well dressed, for when the fashion smarty knows she must buy a new coat, she plans carefully to restrict all her other purchases in order to get the best one possible. Her coat is the handsome one you see whizzing by!

And in a coat, handsome is as handsome does. You have a right to expect a great deal of its behavior. The fabric should provide maximum warmth, long wear; it should not muss easily and should never sag. The lining and interlining must measure up; points to check are at the hem, cuffs, armholes and neck.

Good workmanship pledges generous seams, a deep hem, and sturdy buttonholes. Quality skins guarantee the looks and life of a fur-trimmed coat. If your budget won't afford a fine skin, skip it. There's greater smartness, value and wear in a sterling untrimmed coat with a custom fit.

The success of even the best of coats depends on the fit. It's up to you to see that the proper adjustments are properly made. On a full-length coat, have the hem turned to cover your longest dress. Be sure the armholes accommodate suits with room to spare. Inspect the shoulder span across the back and get an expert to eliminate the slightest wrinkle.

Large order? You bet, but there's more! To keep it off the discard heap for several seasons, a coat must be trend-worthy. For instance, you would err in buying a tent-type coat when the American fashion trend is toward the narrow silhouette.

Watch Trend Lines

Late trends: Untrimmed coats are loose but narrow with flat fronts, a ripple in the back, deep armholes and large collars. Doublebreasted reefers are creeping up — mighty trim for the slim!

Every silhouette features more fur. It's often dyed to match the fabric and is especially handsome when so handled for lining tweed toppers. Velvet rates as both a luxuriant trim and lining; comes in completely reversible styles that turn into velvet "after-fives." In all fabrics, reversibles count two for the price of one. But no matter how you count, make your coat account for the finest quality in your wardrobe.

LOVELY MATRON SAYS "NOTHING BETTER FOR CONSTIPATION"

Mrs. George Schiesser, a charming wife and mother, of the Bronx, New York, says: "Whenever I'm bothered with constipation, there's nothing better than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They work so gently yet so thoroughly, removing waste from the entire intestinal tract."

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON

JOHN "Inside" Gunther entertained guests at dinner the other night by taking them "inside" Gen. MacArthur. . . Some of us hadn't realized, for instance, that the Supreme Commander spends at least two hours a day (and his day is pretty jammed) talking and playing with his adored, only son. . . This little fellow has never been inside a U. S. school room. . . In fact, knows very few children of his own age. . .

AUSTINE

No did a lot of us know that during his entire stay in Japan, MacArthur has never once gone out to a dinner party. . . At luncheons which last from 1:30 to 3:30 MacArthur receives visiting celebrities, foreign diplomats and, in other words, "keeps in touch" socially. . . He almost invariably dines alone with Mrs. MacArthur. . . Few Americans would believe that he's never met the Empress of Japan, nor has Mrs. MacArthur. . . That he's only met about 15 Japanese people. . . Kept himself aloof because the Orientals respect him more than if he were palsy-walsy. . . The few Japanese statesmen he does see (equivalents to U. S. Speaker of the House, President of the Senate, Secretary of State, etc.) all funnel information to MacArthur steadily. . . His fellow Americans in Japan call him "The Other Emperor" because of the all-powerful, King-size, unique-in-history position he holds.

Now that the last Congressional coattail has sailed out the door, and the clouds of dust and cigar smoke have died down, we can take a look at some of the bills Congress did not get time to pass before departing:

A bill for a lottery run by the Post Office Department. . . 50 per cent would go for war expenditures. . . The rest to the winners. . . It was thought up by Democratic Congresman Clemente of N. Y.

A South Dakota Congressman wanted to put a bill through to direct the Secretary of Agriculture to continue research on rain-making.

An academy like West Point, only for State Dept. diplomats, was the brain child of Rep. Russell Mack of Washington State.

Rep. Lane of Massachusetts wanted a shrine built on what is left of the battleship Arizona which lies on the bottom of Pearl Harbor. . . The shrine was to be similar to the Statute of Liberty.

Another Congressman wanted a tomb for the unknown soldier of the American Revolution.

An Act of Congress, however, did move the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone and the Chasm of the Colorado.

This was not an engineering project but paintings. . . A bill was passed to have both pictures moved from the third floor of the Capitol to the Dept. of the Interior. . . So they could be better seen.

Law requires that Congress pass another law to move any painting or statute from one government building to another.

Last time such a law passed, back in 1926, a painting called "First Fight of Ironclads Monitor and Merrimac" was moved to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Congressmen can move paintings and statutes but November may see the voters moving some members of Congress—right out of office! . . . No bill needed.

One recipe for killing time while sweating it out, or just enduring the long hours of waiting inevitable in war for every soldier, was suggested by a Marine officer I talked with at the Army-Navy Club the other afternoon.

"I do all my post-war planning during these periods of waiting. I think up ideas I want to carry out when I get back home. Then, in minute detail, I write out all my brainstorms and send them to my wife. She keeps them in a book ready for me. I try to present each plan so simply my wife could develop most of the ideas and follow them through herself. That's extra insurance for her in case I don't get back."

A conservative Boston banking family recently moved to town and rented the Georgetown house which belongs to a footlose and fancy-figured Washington widow. . . The family also inherited her jewel of a maid. . . Everything about "the jewel" indicated they had a "find" until she sailed into their bedroom the first morning waving a tray, decanter and two glasses and chanting cheerily:

"You-all ready for your little pick-me-up?"

No purchase is more important to your wardrobe than a new winter coat. Here's how to make yours a success!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

HOW MUCH should you spend on a winter coat? Unless you have an unlimited budget, my experts who have shopped the fall market say you should allot no less than one third of your entire season's clothing allowance for this most important of all wardrobe items.

Statistics show that most women do not spend quite that much on coats. I suspect that some girls skimp on a coat to allow for an extra dress or extraneous gee-gaw. That's a mistake that's never made by the woman who is always well dressed, for when the fashion smarty knows she must buy a new coat, she plans carefully to restrict all her other purchases in order to get the best one possible. Her coat is the handsome one you see whizzing by!

And in a coat, handsome is as handsome does. You have a right to expect a great deal of its behavior. The fabric should provide maximum warmth, long wear; it should not muss easily and should never sag. The lining and interlining must measure up; points to check are at the hem, cuffs, armholes and neck.

Good workmanship pledges generous seams, a deep hem, and sturdy buttonholes. Quality skins guarantee the looks and life of a fur-trimmed coat. If your budget won't afford a fine skin, skip it. There's greater smartness, value and wear in a sterling untrimmed coat with a custom fit.

The success of even the best of coats depends on the fit. It's up to you to see that the proper adjustments are properly made. On a full-length coat, have the hem turned to cover your longest dress. Be sure the armholes accommodate suits with room to spare. Inspect the shoulder span across the back and get an expert to eliminate the slightest wrinkle.

Large order? You bet, but there's more! To keep it off the discard heap for several seasons, a coat must be trend-worthy. For instance, you would err in buying a tent-type coat when the American fashion trend is toward the narrow silhouette.

Watch Trend Lines

Late trends: Untrimmed coats are loose but narrow with flat fronts, a ripple in the back, deep armholes and large collars. Doublebreasted reefers are creeping up — mighty trim for the slim!

Every silhouette features more fur. It's often dyed to match the fabric and is especially handsome when so handled for lining tweed toppers. Velvet rates as both a luxuriant trim and lining; comes in completely reversible styles that turn into velvet "after-fives." In all fabrics, reversibles count two for the price of one. But no matter how you count, make your coat account for the finest quality in your wardrobe.

P. S. from J. R. P.
"YOUR CROWNING GLORY"

This booklet shows six exciting, exquisite individual hair-do's . . . one each for the six types of faces. Each hair-do is designed EXCLUSIVELY for John Robert Powers by world-famous Hair Stylists. See them modeled by Powers models of various types and age groups. Front and rear views of each hair-do are shown so you'll find it easy to adapt the one best suited for YOUR personality. It tells you how to determine YOUR type — quickly, easily. Write to me in care of this newspaper and enclose 10 cents in coin to help cover costs, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

LOVELY MATRON SAYS "NOTHING BETTER FOR CONSTIPATION"

Mrs. George Schiesser, a charming wife and mother, of the Bronx, New York, says: "Whenever I'm bothered with constipation, there's nothing better than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They work so gently yet so thoroughly, removing waste from the entire intestinal tract."

Note: For years, Dr. F. M. Edwards, a noted Ohio physician, recommended Olive Tablets for his patients troubled with constipation and its headaches, lack of pep and bad breath. All vegetable! Olive Tablets work on both upper and lower bowels—they give more natural-like bowel movements —so smooth—no griping. 15¢, 30¢.

Local Guard Will Conduct Recruit Drive

About 125 men are needed in the National Guards units here and in Frostburg to bring them up to full strength as the units participate in the nation-wide drive for 200,000 new recruits.

Col. Randolph Millholland, commanding officer of the 115th Infantry Regiment, said the local unit needs 75 men and the one at Frostburg 50.

No orders have been received here on the recruiting program, Col. Millholland said, but it is supposed that a specified time will be set up for men interested to visit the State Armory and contact recruiting officers.

More Details Later

More specific details will be announced when orders are received, the commanding officer added.

Meanwhile, Brig. Gen. Harry C. Ruhl, executive officer of the State Military Department, reported Maryland will campaign for 2,000 more men for the guard.

General Ruhl said most of the recruits would be assigned to the 29th Division and a few would be added to the 104th Fighter Squadron of the Maryland Air National Guard.

He explained the smaller Guard units located throughout the state would receive only a few of the new men due to limited armory space for training, lockers and equipment.

General Ruhl said final plans for the recruiting campaign are being completed and the drive actually will begin in a few days.

He said the goal of approximately 2,000 men would build the strength of the guard in the state up to the authorized manpower ceiling for the current fiscal year.

Between 18 and 35

Men between 18 and 35 will be accepted for training with the guard. The campaign will continue until next June 30.

The new men will be required to attend drill sessions and to undergo 21 days of summer training.

About 100 of the new recruits will be allotted to the Air National Guard and the majority of the others will be assigned to various 29th Division units, the general said.

The over-all campaign to obtain 200,000 men is intended to build up the nation's guard units to their full authorized strength, the Army announced.

Men of draft age will be accepted by the guard and will not be liable to induction after joining, an Army spokesman said.

The recruits, however, will have no guarantee that their guard unit will not be called to active duty, the spokesman added.

Four royal Hawaiian feather capes now in the Smithsonian Institution are said to be worth $1,000,000 each.

Ought To "Polish Up" Her Traffic Manners!

Spent most of yesterday over at the Court House. "Tiny" Fields, the biggest and fastest-talking of our three policemen, was holding forth about his traffic troubles.

"Women drive just as good as men do," Tiny said, "and just as bad. For instance—a girl in a convertible today. She started a three-block tie-up all by herself.

"She's creeping down Main Street—left hand stuck out and sort of waving around. Never turns right or left, never stops. But, of course, everyone behind her thinks she's signaling about something. Nobody dares to pass. When I stop her and ask what's up, she smiles sweetly and explains that she's drying her nail polish!"

From where I sit, that girl's typical of certain folks who are so wrapped up in themselves, they never notice they're not being fair to others. Our neighbor has a right to drive in safety—just as he has a right to enjoy a glass of beer. Let's all respect the other fellow's rights.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Ought To "Polish Up" Her Traffic Manners!

Spent most of yesterday over at the Court House. "Tiny" Fields, the biggest and fastest-talking of our three policemen, was holding forth about his traffic troubles.

"Women drive just as good as men do," Tiny said, "and just as bad. For instance—a girl in a convertible today. She started a three-block tie-up all by herself.

"She's creeping down Main Street—left hand stuck out and sort of waving around. Never turns right or left, never stops. But, of course, everyone behind her thinks she's signaling about something. Nobody dares to pass. When I stop her and ask what's up, she smiles sweetly and explains that she's drying her nail polish!"

From where I sit, that girl's typical of certain folks who are so wrapped up in themselves, they never notice they're not being fair to others. Our neighbor has a right to drive in safety—just as he has a right to enjoy a glass of beer. Let's all respect the other fellow's rights.

Fort Hill And LaSalle Elevens Clash Here Tomorrow Night

City Contest Tops Weekend Football Slate

Allegany Host To Keyser Saturday In Local Stadium

The first clash in the three-cornered race for city supremacy on the gridiron will occur tomorrow night in the Fort Hill stadium when Coach Bill Hahn's unbeaten Fort Hill Sentinels meet the winless LaSalle Explorers at 8 p. m.

Victorious in four straight games this year the Hilltoppers will be heavily favored to make it five when they do battle with Coach Phil Carolyn's Irish eleven.

Fort Hill has rolled past Moorefield 32-0, Washington and Lee of Arlington, Va., 19-7, Keyser 39-6, and Martinsburg 28-7. LaSalle has dropped four straight, losing to Romney 47-13, St. Wendelin's of Pittsburgh, Pa., 25-6, St. Mary's of Pittsburgh, 7-0 and DeLone High of McSherrytown, Pa., 26-0.

The two city rivals have met 17 times on the football field with Fort Hill winning 16 and one game ending in a scoreless deadlock. So, in addition to seeking their first win of the 1950 campaign, the Explorers will also be striving for their first win over the Hahnmen.

The schools first clashed on the gridiron in 1936 with Fort Hill the winner 25-0 and they have played every year since, meeting twice in each of 1943, 1944 and 1945, during the late World War.

The worst beating suffered by LaSalle in this series was a 55-0 trouncing administered by Fort Hill's once-beaten team in 1947. The closest game outside of the scoreless tie played in 1938 was a 7-6 Fort Hill win in 1943.

The Sentinels are sparked this year by "Player of the Year" Lynn Beightol whose quarterbacking and passing vie with the best, and the running of speedy Dick Beard, the city's leading scorer.

Scores of past games follow:

1936—Fort Hill 25, LaSalle 0
1937—Fort Hill 19, LaSalle 0
1938—Fort Hill 0, LaSalle 0 (tie)
1939—Fort Hill 20, LaSalle 6
1940—Fort Hill 19, LaSalle 6
1941—Fort Hill 13, LaSalle 6
1942—Fort Hill 13, LaSalle 0
1943—Fort Hill 7, LaSalle 6
1943—Fort Hill 13, LaSalle 6
1944—Fort Hill 54, LaSalle 6
1944—Fort Hill 13, LaSalle 0
1945—Fort Hill 33, LaSalle 6
1945—Fort Hill 14, LaSalle 0
1946—Fort Hill 14, LaSalle 0
1947—Fort Hill 55, LaSalle 0
1948—Fort Hill 47, LaSalle 13
1949—Fort Hill 29, LaSalle 0

Cumberland's third city high school eleven will go to the wars Saturday when Allegany's once-beaten Campers play host to Keyser High's Golden Tornado at the Fort Hill Stadium in a night game which starts at 8 o'clock.

Keyser has won only one game in five starts and sports a four-game losing streak which Coach Fred Clark hopes it can break against the Alco gridders.

Coach Bob Pence's Blue and White squad racked up three straight triumphs over Beall 20-7, Somerset 32-21, and Ridgeley 33-6, before falling to Hagerstown last week by a 12-6 count.

Keyser opened with a 14-8 decision over an Alumni team then dropped games to Charles Town 19-6, Fort Hill 39-6, Beall 41-0, and Ridgeley 27-19.

The Keyser-Allegany series is one of the oldest rivalries in the area, having started in 1921 and continued through without a break since then.

Other Friday tilts in a heavy weekend slate will find two Potomac Valley Conference clashes with Ridgeley traveling to Moorefield and Franklin at Petersburg. University High of Morgantown, W. Va., will battle Romney's Pioneers at Romney, Shinnston is at Parsons, Terra Alta at Thomas and Bedford at Huntingdon.

Saturday two other games are scheduled in addition to the Allegany-Keyser clash. They are the West Virginia School for Deaf of Romney at Virginia School for Deaf and Potomac State's undefeated Catamounts playing host to Montgomery Junior College at Keyser.

BEST LINEMAN—Jim Weatherall (above), 6-foot, 4-inch 220-pound tackle of Oklahoma was selected as college football's lineman of the week for his sparkling play against Texas A & M. last Saturday. Oklahoma won 34-28 by scoring a last-minute touchdown in a drive paced by Weatherall's outstanding offensive play and blocking.

Oklahoma Tackle Is Top Lineman

Jim Weatherall Gets AP Award

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — Tackle Jim Weatherall of the unbeaten and untied Oklahoma Sooners is the college football lineman of the week.

He gained the honor on the vicious blocking and tackling that sparked a last-minute Oklahoma drive against Texas A & M. Oklahoma won 34-28.

The 6 ft.-4 inch 220-pound Weatherall had left the game only a few minutes, sobbing when he missed a try for the extra point that would have tied the score at 28-28.

But he was soon back on the field in his position at tackle and led an aroused Sooner line to the winning touchdown in the final seconds of play.

Altogether Weatherall played approximately 50 minutes, both offensively and defensively.

Bob Ward, Maryland guard, and Chet Gierula, Maryland tackle, both received glowing praise for fine play that helped trounce Michigan State.

Coach Bob Neyland of Tennessee termed his center, Bob Davis, "easily the best lineman on the field (against Duke). In this day of two-platoon football, it is difficult for an offensive lineman to get recognition, but Davis' blocking was so beautiful it definitely over-shadowed the fine defensive play of several of our linemen. His block of the Duke safety man on Hank Lauricella's 62-yard touchdown run was one of the prettiest I ever saw."

This week's nominations included:

Tackles — Chet Gierula, Maryland; Pug Pearman, Tennessee.

Ends — Bud Sherrod, Tennessee; Doug Atkins, Tennessee; Pete Augsberger, Maryland.

Centers — Bob Davis, Tennessee.

Guards — Bob Ward, Maryland, and Ted Daffer, Tennessee.

No Division Yet Of Series Money

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11 (AP) — Walter Mulbry, secretary of baseball, said today it probably would be another two or three days before it is known just who gets how much in the split of player money from the world series.

Mulbry said he'd like to have details of how the money will be divided by tomorrow but he wasn't surt it could be done by then.

Danny Cullen Is Leading Hurler In Pen-Mar Loop

Has 9-2 Record For Klondyke Colts Nine

Danny Cullen, Beall High School ace, who hurled for the Klondyke Colts in the Pen-Mar Baseball League after the school season ended this year, was the leading pitcher in the eight-team circuit with a 9-2 record according to averages just released by Kenneth Robertson, secretary of the loop.

Cullen tossed 87 innings in 13 games, allowing 18 runs on 61 hits and striking out 107 batsmen, an average of eight per game, for a percentage mark of .818.

Second in winning percentage was the workhorse of the loop, Hal Haberlein of Zihlman who won 12 and lost 4 while pitching 148⅔ innings in 19 games for a winning percentage of .750.

Bob See of Ellerslie wound up with 10 victories and four losses for the third best mark of .714. The losingest pitcher was D. Morris of Flintstone who won 2 and lost 11.

In addition to working the most innings and winning the most games in the 28-game season, Haberlein also struck out the most batsmen, 137. Official averages follow:

Westvaco Gains Edge With 4-3 Win Over Keyser

Win In Ninth With Bases Loaded Walk

WESTERNPORT, Oct. 11 — A walk with the bases loaded in the bottom of the ninth with two out gave Westvaco's Papermakers a 4-3 victory over the Keyser Firemen in the fifth game of their Bi-State Baseball League playoff here today.

Lefty Bill, who relieved McClung in the ninth after the latter was removed for a pinch-hitter was the losing pitcher when he passed Lonnie Marsh with three on to break up a 3-3 deadlock. Leo Ryan had opened the ninth with a single for the only hit the Papermakers got in the winning frame.

The victory was the third for Woody Woodson in the best-of-seven series and gave Westvaco a 3-2 edge in the finals.

The sixth game of the series will be played at Keyser Saturday at 3 p.m. and the seventh if necessary Sunday at a site to be determined by the flip of a coin after Saturday's battle.

Bud Mosser paced the Papermakers' 14-hit attack with 4 for 5 while Harold Robertson chipped in with a homerun in the fourth inning. Tysinger and Mosser starred afield for the winners.

Ocie Raines and Bill See each collected two hits for the losers while Symons' triple was the only extra base blow for Keyser.

Middleground Hurts Leg, May Never Race Again

Colt Pulls Up Lame In Belmont Workout

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — Racing days are over for Middleground, the unpredictable King Ranch colt who won the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes this year.

The long-legged son of Bold Venture popped two bones in his right foot in a workout on Belmont's main track today and Trainer Max Hirsch said only through a miracle would he ever race again.

"We'll probably be able to save him but that's about all," Hirsch declared after examining X-rays.

The x-ray showed the colt broke two sesamoid bones in his right foot. He will be sent to the King Ranch farm for stud purposes when he recovers, Hirsch said.

"I'd say the chances are a million to one against his ever racing again," the trainer added.

Middleground won only two races in 10 starts this year but they were major three-year-old classics — the Derby and Belmont Stakes. The King Ranch colt missed sweeping the triple crown by finishing second to Hill Prince in the Preakness.

The chestnut son of Bold Venture —Verguenza was out on Belmont's main track for a workout when the accident happened. The injury was so serious Middleground had to be removed to his barn in an ambulance.

Bill Boland, who was an apprentice rider when Hirsch gambled and let him handle Middleground in the Derby, was up for the workout. Later, Boland said he heard a "pop" when Middleground suddenly broke down and pulled up lame.

"I was watching the workout, and saw it all," Hirsch said. I suppose the ground broke from under him, or he made a mis-step or something. It's just one of those things—like you could be walking down the street and slip and break a leg.

"There was nothing wrong with the track, because we went out and looked at it."

Middleground has been idle since Sept. 20, when he ran in the Jerome Handicap and wound up tenth behind Hill Prince, now the generally recognized three-year-old champion. Hirsch said he had planned to start Middleround in the $25,000 Grey Lag handicap Saturday at Jamaica, and was pointing him for the Pimlico Special next month.

Rams Pace NFL Offense Parade

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11 (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams, who lost their most recent start to the Philadelphia Eagles 56 to 20, still lead the National Football League in total offense.

Statistics released today by the league showed the Rams from the West Coast with 1,654 yards gained, most of them by forward passing. The Rams, with Bob Waterfield and Norman Van Brocklin doing the heaving, have netted 1,064 yards through the air and raced for 590 on the ground.

The New York Yanks, in past years mentioned only among the leading money losers, are second to the Rams in total yardage — 1,540 yards gained on 839 passing and 665 running. The Chicago Bears ranked third with a total 1,481.

Los Angeles has completed 51 percent of its passes with the Cleveland Browns second with 50 percent. Baltimore ranks third in passing efficiency with a 49 percent completion average.

In rushing, it's those perennial ground grabbers, the Chicago Bears, in front with 792 yards followed by the Browns with 750; Green Bay, 744 and the Philadelphia Eagles 722.

Cleveland's punters are tops in the circuit on an average of 45 yards per kick with Philadelphia second (43.3) and New York Yanks third (42.5).

The revitalized Yanks top all teams in scoring with 137 points and also have scored the greatest number of touchdowns, 19. Los Angeles is second in scoring with 120 points while the defending champion Eagles hold third in the scoring column on 111.

On defense it's the New York Giants and Detroit Lions heading the parade. Each team has allowed opponents only 2.5 yards per attempt. In pass defense, Pittsburgh has the top efficiency mark, allowing only 39.8 percent completions against them.

Whitey Ford Has 2nd Examination For Army Draft

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—(INS)—Ed Ford, 21-year-old rookie lefthander of the New York Yankees who won the fourth world series game, underwent his second physical examination for the draft today. Army officials said it will be a day or two before he is classified.

The young pitcher was examined last September but was marked "status undetermined" because of traces of a tropical infection, presumably incurred while he played ball in Mexico last winter.

Bobcats Lose 3-1 To Slippery Rock

FROSTBURG, Oct. 11—Frostburg State Teachers' soccer eleven dropped its first decision here today when Slippery Rock Teachers defeated the Bobcats 3-1.

It was the first loss in three starts for Coach Kenneth Babcock's booters.

Stimmel and Buckey tallied field goals for the winners in the second period and Bruno added a penalty score in the third stanza to blast Frostburg's hopes for an unbeaten campaign.

Frostburg was on the defensive throughout most of the game with Slippery Rock getting 10 corner kicks to the locals' two.

Buckey also missed two penalty kicks for the winners .

John Frank played an outstanding defensive game at goal for Frostburg, saving the Bobcats on many occasions. Dave Lewis, inside left, also played outstanding ball for the losers.

The halfback line of Myers, Guza and Shreve and the wingmen, Bruno, Farelli and Ball were outstanding for Slippery Rock.

Phils Sign New College Pitcher Tom Casagrande

Receives $40,000 From NL Champs

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11 (AP)—The most sought-after college baseball player in America was signed by the Philadelphia Phillies today —for a $40,000 bonus and "because he loves the Phillies."

Nathan (Babe) Alexander, genial publicist of the National League champions, disclosed that the Phils paid young Tom Casagrande the second highest bonus in the club's history. He said scouts rate the kid a potential "Babe Ruth."

Casagrande is a 20-year-old left-handed pitcher who also hits the ball a country mile. Ten major league clubs fell all over each other trying to sign him. According to Alexander, major league scouts were more plentiful at Fordham University baseball practice sessions and games than students in recent months.

"Why when he worked out in St. Louis, 20 members of the St. Louis Cardinal organization watched him in action. The New York Yankees, Boston Braves, New York Giants, Cincinnati Reds, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox all tried to grab him.

"But we got him." And Babe grinned like a cat who just caught himself a dozen mice.

How come the Phillies won out with only $40,000?

"I didn't say we outbid the others," said Babe. "I only said we signed the boy. He accepted our offer because he loves the Phillies."

VFW, Century And SERC Gain Sweeps In Shuffle Openers

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, South End Republican Club and Century A. C. scored 3-0 sweeps in opening games of the Ladies Shuffleboard League yesterday.

VFW topped Woodmen of the World, SERC defeated Moose girls, and Century turned back Clingerman's Restaurant to tie for the lead in the 10-team circuit.

In other matches Cresap Tavern won 2-1 over Pocahontas Club, and Frostburg Legion lost 2-1 to Ruth's Tavern.

State-Syracuse Tilt Shifted Under Arcs

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 11 (INS) —Saturday's Penn State - Syracuse football game was shifted today from afternoon to night because of the telecast of the Army - Michigan game in New York.

Syracuse officials said they feared the video presentation would hurt t heir attendance unless the shift was made.

SPORT SLANTS

Vernall Makes Grade
Rollin Seeks Berth
Browns First Blank
Aerial Arm Clicks

By C. V. BURNS

While Mr. C. V. Burns, Cumberland News Sports Editor, is on vacation his column Sports Slants will be written by John W. Knowlton.

We're glad to see that Johnny Vernall, former end and passing ace on Allegany High School teams is coming along rapidly at Fairmont State College, Fairmont, W. Va., where the sophomore is playing quarterback for the Falcons and helping no end toward a successful season for Coach Wilford (Squib) Wilson's eleven.

The Falcons lost their first game of the season last week when West Liberty tripped them 27-13 after Fairmont had racked up two consecutive wins, including a 7-6 decision over Concord.

Vernall, tall six-foot son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vernall, 403 Avirett Avenue, Cumberland, sparked the Falcons in the Concord game, completing six of nine passes while setting up the winning touchdown.

Johnny was All-City end on the undefeated Allegany eleven which played that stirring 6-6 tie with Fort Hill on Turkey Day of 1948. The lanky lad end-around pass play that produced seven touchdowns for Coach Bob Pence's gridders that year, including a toss to Earl Bruce for the Campers' only score in the Thanksgiving Day classic.

• — • — •

Romney's all-state fullback on the Pioneers Class B champions of last season, Rollin McCleary, is making a strong bid for a starting berth in the backfield of the West Virginia University Freshmen eleven this year.

McCleary was the powerhouse in Romney's high-scoring attack which netted Coach Dick McElwee's gridders an undefeated season and the Class B state championship.

The Frosh open their season Thursday against Fairmont State College in Fairmont.

• — • — •

Tommy Powers, Cumberland's bid for fame at Duke University, has already caught two touchdowns passes this year for the Blue Devils, equaling his record of two for the entire season last year.

Powers showed his broken field ability by returning six kickoffs for a total of 188 yards for the Duke eleven last season.

Tommy has proven a popular lad at the Durham, N. C., school, being elected Class president in this, his senior year.

• — • — •

That shutout defeat the New York Giants handed the Cleveland Browns last week was the first time the four-times champions of the now defunct All America League had failed to score since they were organized in 1946.

The Clevelanders bounced back, however, to top the Pittsburgh Steelers last Saturday in the Smoky City by a 30-17 score.

Otto Graham is again the pace-setter for the Browns' attack having completed 44 passes in 91 attempts for a total yardage of 650.

Fort Hill's mighty air arm, Lynn Beightol, is at it again this year. The 16-year-old quarterback who sparked the Sentinels to city and state championship last season on the strength of his quick thinking and strong right arm is again leading the Red Raiders toward an undefeated record in 1950 as Fort Hill has rolled past four foes without a loss.

And one of the reasons the Sentinels appear so invincible on the gridiron is that Beightol has completed 22 passes in 46 attempts for 328 yards and nine touchdowns thus far in only four games. That makes for half the scoring punch of the powerful Hilltoppers who have tallied 18 six-pointers in crushing aside Washington and Lee of Arlington, 19-17, Keyser 39-6, Moorefield 32-0 and Martinsburg 28-7.

He's had only three of his tosses intercepted, too!

Beightol is also a tower of strength on defense for Coach Bill Hahn's eleven, being one of the best pass defenders and safety men in the city. His ability to run and block aid immeasurably a well-geared Fort Hill offense.

• — • — •

Fort Hill's newest gridiron opponent, Linsly Military Institute, who will play host to the Sentinels in Wheeling, W. Va., Saturday, Nov. 4, chalked up their third victory last week by turning back St. Clairsville, 20-0.

The Sentinels and Linsly did not meet last year.

Nats Sell Singleton

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Pitcher Elmer Singleton, who came to the Washington Senators from the Pacific Coast League earlier this year, was sold today to Toronto of the International League, Vice President Calvin Griffith announced.

Fort Hill And LaSalle Elevens Clash Here Tomorrow Night

Allegany Host To Keyser Saturday In Local Stadium

The first clash in the three-cornered race for city supremacy on the gridiron will occur tomorrow night in the Fort Hill stadium when Coach Bill Hahn's unbeaten Fort Hill Sentinels meet the winless LaSalle Explorers at 8 p. m.

Victorious in four straight games this year the Hilltoppers will be heavily favored to make it five when they do battle with Coach Phil Carolyn's Irish eleven.

Fort Hill has rolled past Moorefield 32-0, Washington and Lee of Arlington, Va., 19-7, Keyser 39-6, and Martinsburg 28-7. LaSalle has dropped four straight, losing to Romney 47-13, St. Wendelin's of Pittsburgh, Pa., 25-6, St. Mary's of Pittsburgh, 7-0 and DeLone High of McSherrytown, Pa., 26-0.

The two city rivals have met 17 times on the football field with Fort Hill winning 16 and one game ending in a scoreless deadlock. So, in addition to seeking their first win of the 1950 campaign, the Explorers will also be striving for their first win over the Hahnmen.

The schools first clashed on the gridiron in 1936 with Fort Hill the winner 25-0 and they have played every year since, meeting twice in each of 1943, 1944 and 1945, during the late World War.

The worst beating suffered by LaSalle in this series was a 55-0 trouncing administered by Fort Hill's once-beaten team in 1947. The closest game outside of the scoreless tie played in 1938 was a 7-6 Fort Hill win in 1943.

The Sentinels are sparked this year by "Player of the Year" Lynn Beightol whose quarterbacking and passing vie with the best, and the running of speedy Dick Beard, the city's leading scorer.

1936—Fort Hill 25, LaSalle 0
1937—Fort Hill 19, LaSalle 0
1938—Fort Hill 0, LaSalle 0 (tie)
1939—Fort Hill 20, LaSalle 6
1940—Fort Hill 19, LaSalle 6
1941—Fort Hill 13, LaSalle 6
1942—Fort Hill 13, LaSalle 0
1943—Fort Hill 7, LaSalle 6
1943—Fort Hill 13, LaSalle 6
1944—Fort Hill 54, LaSalle 6
1944—Fort Hill 13, LaSalle 0
1945—Fort Hill 33, LaSalle 6
1945—Fort Hill 14, LaSalle 0
1946—Fort Hill 14, LaSalle 0
1947—Fort Hill 55, LaSalle 0
1948—Fort Hill 47, LaSalle 13
1949—Fort Hill 29, LaSalle 0

Cumberland's third city high school eleven will go to the wars Saturday when Allegany's once-beaten Campers play host to Keyser High's Golden Tornado at the Fort Hill Stadium in a night game which starts at 8 o'clock.

Keyser has won only one game in five starts and sports a four-game losing streak which Coach Fred Clark hopes it can break against the Alco gridders.

Coach Bob Pence's Blue and White squad racked up three straight triumphs over Beall 20-7, Somerset 32-21, and Ridgeley 33-6, before falling to Hagerstown last week by a 12-6 count.

Keyser opened with a 14-8 decision over an Alumni team then dropped games to Charles Town 19-6, Fort Hill 39-6, Beall 41-0, and Ridgeley 27-19.

The Keyser-Allegany series is one of the oldest rivalries in the area, having started in 1921 and continued through without a break since then.

Other Friday tilts in a heavy weekend slate will find two Potomac Valley Conference clashes with Ridgeley traveling to Moorefield and Franklin at Petersburg. University High of Morgantown, W. Va., will battle Romney's Pioneers at Romney, Shinnston is at Parsons, Terra Alta at Thomas and Bedford at Huntingdon.

Saturday two other games are scheduled in addition to the Allegany-Keyser clash. They are the West Virginia School for Deaf of Romney at Virginia School for Deaf and Potomac State's undefeated Catamounts playing host to Montgomery Junior College at Keyser.

BEST LINEMAN—Jim Weatherall (above), 6-foot, 4-inch 220-pound tackle of Oklahoma was selected as college football's lineman of the week for his sparkling play against Texas A & M. last Saturday. Oklahoma won 34-28 by scoring a last-minute touchdown in a drive paced by Weatherall's outstanding offensive play and blocking.

Oklahoma Tackle Is Top Lineman

Jim Weatherall Gets AP Award

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — Tackle Jim Weatherall of the unbeaten and untied Oklahoma Sooners is the college football lineman of the week.

He gained the honor on the vicious blocking and tackling that sparked a last-minute Oklahoma drive against Texas A & M. Oklahoma won 34-28.

The 6 ft.-4 inch 220-pound Weatherall had left the game only a few minutes, sobbing when he missed a try for the extra point that would have tied the score at 28-28.

But he was soon back on the field in his position at tackle and led an aroused Sooner line to the winning touchdown in the final seconds of play.

Altogether Weatherall played approximately 50 minutes, both offensively and defensively.

Bob Ward, Maryland guard, and Chet Gierula, Maryland tackle, both received glowing praise for fine play that helped trounce Michigan State.

Coach Bob Neyland of Tennessee termed his center, Bob Davis, "easily the best lineman on the field (against Duke). In this day of two-platoon football, it is difficult for an offensive lineman to get recognition, but Davis' blocking was so beautiful it definitely over-shadowed the fine defensive play of several of our linemen. His block of the Duke safety man on Hank Lauricella's 62-yard touchdown run was one of the prettiest I ever saw."

This week's nominations included:

Tackles — Chet Gierula, Maryland; Pug Pearman, Tennessee.

Ends — Bud Sherrod, Tennessee; Doug Atkins, Tennessee; Pete Augsberger, Maryland.

Centers — Bob Davis, Tennessee.

Guards — Bob Ward, Maryland, and Ted Daffer, Tennessee.

No Division Yet Of Series Money

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11 (AP) — Walter Mulbry, secretary of baseball, said today it probably would be another two or three days before it is known just who gets how much in the split of player money from the world series.

Mulbry said he'd like to have details of how the money will be divided by tomorrow but he wasn't surt it could be done by then.

Win In Ninth With Bases Loaded Walk

WESTERNPORT, Oct. 11 — A walk with the bases loaded in the bottom of the ninth with two out gave Westvaco's Papermakers a 4-3 victory over the Keyser Firemen in the fifth game of their Bi-State Baseball League playoff here today.

Lefty Bill, who relieved McClung in the ninth after the latter was removed for a pinch-hitter was the losing pitcher when he passed Lonnie Marsh with three on to break up a 3-3 deadlock. Leo Ryan had opened the ninth with a single for the only hit the Papermakers got in the winning frame.

The victory was the third for Woody Woodson in the best-of-seven series and gave Westvaco a 3-2 edge in the finals.

The sixth game of the series will be played at Keyser Saturday at 3 p.m. and the seventh if necessary Sunday at a site to be determined by the flip of a coin after Saturday's battle.

Bud Mosser paced the Papermakers' 14-hit attack with 4 for 5 while Harold Robertson chipped in with a homerun in the fourth inning. Tysinger and Mosser starred afield for the winners.

Ocie Raines and Bill See each collected two hits for the losers while Symons' triple was the only extra base blow for Keyser.

The score:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| KEYSER | 010 101 000—3 | 8 | 4 |
| WESTVACO | 000 110 011—4 | 14 | 2 |

Accident Booters Edge Kitzmiller 3-2

ACCIDENT, Oct. 11—Coach Charley Strauss' Accident High booters scored a thrilling 3-2 victory over Kitzmiller High's soccer team here today, scoring on a long field goal by Harold Brant in the fourth period to break a 2-2 deadlock.

It was the fifth victory in six starts for the Accident eleven who scored in each the first, second and fourth periods.

Ray Ferguson tallied the first field goal for the winners while Dan Edgar scored the second one-pointer. Kitzmiller scored in the first and third stanzas.

The Kitzmiller girls defeated Accident's girls 5-3 in a field ball game prior to the soccer tilt. The score:

The Cadets have won the trophy five times in the last six years.

In the weekly rating by the Lambert committee Army received 994 points, eight more than Cornell. The top 11 are Army 994, Cornell 986, Pennsylvania and Villanova, 984 each, Princeton, 983, Dartmouth 982, Boston College 981, Pittsburgh 978, Navy 977 and Holy Cross and Temple 976 each.

Middleground Hurts Leg, May Never Race Again

Colt Pulls Up Lame In Belmont Workout

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — Racing days are over for Middleground, the unpredictable King Ranch colt who won the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes this year.

The long-legged son of Bold Venture popped two bones in his right foot in a workout on Belmont's main track today and Trainer Max Hirsch said only through a miracle would he ever race again.

"We'll probably be able to save him but that's about all," Hirsch declared after examining X-rays.

The x-ray showed the colt broke two sesamoid bones in his right foot. He will be sent to the King Ranch farm for stud purposes when he recovers, Hirsch said.

"I'd say the chances are a million to one against his ever racing again," the trainer added.

Middleground won only two races in 10 starts this year but they were major three-year-old classics — the Derby and Belmont Stakes. The King Ranch colt missed sweeping the triple crown by finishing second to Hill Prince in the Preakness.

The chestnut son of Bold Venture—Verguenza was out on Belmont's main track for a workout when the accident happened. The injury was so serious Middleground had to be removed to his barn in an ambulance.

Bill Boland, who was an apprentice rider when Hirsch gambled and let him handle Middleground in the Derby, was up for the workout. Later, Boland said he heard a "pop" when Middleground suddenly broke down and pulled up lame.

"I was watching the workout, and saw it all," Hirsch said. I suppose the ground broke from under him, or he made a mis-step or something. It's just one of those things—like you could be walking down the street and slip and break a leg.

"There was nothing wrong with the track, because we went out and looked at it."

Middleground has been idle since Sept. 20, when he ran in the Jerome Handicap and wound up tenth behind Hill Prince, now the generally recognized three-year-old champion. Hirsch said he had planned to start Middleround in the $25,000 Grey Lag handicap Saturday at Jamaica, and was pointing him for the Pimlico Special next month.

Rams Pace NFL Offense Parade

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11 (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams, who lost their most recent start to the Philadelphia Eagles 56 to 20, still lead the National Football League in total offense.

Statistics released today by the league showed the Rams from the West Coast with 1,654 yards gained, most of them by forward passing. The Rams, with Bob Waterfield and Norman Van Brocklin doing the heaving, have netted 1,064 yards through the air and raced for 590 on the ground.

The New York Yanks, in past years mentioned only among the leading money losers, are second to the Rams in total yardage — 1,540 yards gained on 839 passing and 665 running. The Chicago Bears ranked third with a total 1,481.

Los Angeles has completed 51 percent of its passes with the Cleveland Browns second with 50 percent. Baltimore ranks third in passing efficiency with a 49 percent completion average.

In rushing, it's those perennial ground grabbers, the Chicago Bears, in front with 792 yards followed by the Browns with 750; Green Bay, 744 and the Philadelphia Eagles 722.

Cleveland's punters are tops in the circuit on an average of 45 yards per kick with Philadelphia second (43.3) and New York Yanks third (42.5).

The revitalized Yanks top all teams in scoring with 137 points and also have scored the greatest number of touchdowns, 19. Los Angeles is second in scoring with 120 points while the defending champion Eagles hold third in the scoring column on 111.

On defense it's the New York Giants and Detroit Lions heading the parade. Each team has allowed opponents only 2.5 yards per attempt. In pass defense, Pittsburgh has the top efficiency mark, allowing only 39.8 percent completions against them.

Whitey Ford Has 2nd Examination For Army Draft

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—(INS)—Ed Ford, 21-year-old rookie lefthander of the New York Yankees who won the fourth world series game, underwent his second physical examination for the draft today. Army officials said it will be a day or two before he is classified.

The young pitcher was examined last September but was marked "status undetermined" because of traces of a tropical infection, presumably incurred while he played ball in Mexico last winter.

Bobcats Lose 3-1 To Slippery Rock

FROSTBURG, Oct. 11—Frostburg State Teachers' soccer eleven dropped its first decision here today when Slippery Rock Teachers defeated the Bobcats 3-1.

It was the first loss in three starts for Coach Kenneth Babcock's booters.

Stimmel and Buckey tallied field goals for the winners in the second period and Bruno added a penalty score in the third stanza to blast Frostburg's hopes for an unbeaten campaign.

Frostburg was on the defensive throughout most of the game with Slippery Rock getting 10 corner kicks to the locals' two.

Buckey also missed two penalty kicks for the winners .

Phils Sign New College Pitcher Tom Casagrande

Receives $40,000 From NL Champs

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11 (AP)—The most sought-after college baseball player in America was signed by the Philadelphia Phillies today —for a $40,000 bonus and "because he loves the Phillies."

Nathan (Babe) Alexander, genial publicist of the National League champions, disclosed that the Phils paid young Tom Casagrande the second highest bonus in the club's history. He said scouts rate the kid a potential "Babe Ruth."

Casagrande is a 20-year-old left-handed pitcher who also hits the ball a country mile. Ten major league clubs fell all over each other trying to sign him. According to Alexander, major league scouts were more plentiful at Fordham University baseball practice sessions and games than students in recent months.

"Why when he worked out in St. Louis, 20 members of the St. Louis Cardinal organization watched him in action. The New York Yankees, Boston Braves, New York Giants, Cincinnati Reds, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox all tried to grab him.

"But we got him." And Babe grinned like a cat who just caught himself a dozen mice.

How come the Phillies won out with only $40,000?

"I didn't say we outbid the others," said Babe. "I only said we signed the boy. He accepted our offer because he loves the Phillies."

SPORT SLANTS

Vernall Makes Grade • • • Rollin Seeks Berth

Browns First Blank • • • Aerial Arm Clicks

By C. V. BURNS

While Mr. C. V. Burns, Cumberland News Sports Editor, is on vacation his column Sports Slants will be written by John W. Knowlton.

We're glad to see that Johnny Vernall, former end and passing ace on Allegany High School teams is coming along rapidly at Fairmont State College, Fairmont, W. Va., where the sophomore is playing quarterback for the Falcons and helping no end toward a successful season for Coach Wilford (Squib) Wilson's eleven.

The Falcons lost their first game of the season last week when West Liberty tripped them 27-13 after Fairmont had racked up two consecutive wins, including a 7-6 decision over Concord.

Vernall, tall six-foot son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vernall, 403 Avirett Avenue, Cumberland, sparked the Falcons in the Concord game, completing six of nine passes while setting up the winning touchdown.

Johnny was All-City end on the undefeated Allegany eleven which played that stirring 6-6 tie with Fort Hill on Turkey Day of 1948. The lanky lad end-around pass play that produced seven touchdowns for Coach Bob Pence's gridders that year, including a toss to Earl Bruce for the Campers' only score in the Thanksgiving Day classic.

• — • — •

Romney's all-state fullback on the Pioneers Class B champions of last season, Rollin McCleary, is making a strong bid for a starting berth in the backfield of the West Virginia University Freshmen eleven this year.

McCleary was the powerhouse in Romney's high-scoring attack which netted Coach Dick McElwee's gridders an undefeated season and the Class B state championship.

The Frosh open their season Thursday against Fairmont State College in Fairmont.

• — • — •

Tommy Powers, Cumberland's bid for fame at Duke University, has already caught two touchdowns passes this year for the Blue Devils, equaling his record of two for the entire season last year.

Powers showed his broken field ability by returning six kickoffs for a total of 188 yards for the Duke eleven last season.

Tommy has proven a popular lad at the Durham, N. C., school, being elected Class president in this, his senior year.

• — • — •

That shutout defeat the New York Giants handed the Cleveland Browns last week was the first time the four-times champions of the now defunct All America League had failed to score since they were organized in 1946.

The Clevelanders bounced back, however, to top the Pittsburgh Steelers last Saturday in the Smoky City by a 30-17 score.

Otto Graham is again the pacesetter for the Browns' attack having completed 44 passes in 91 attempts for a total yardage of 650.

Fort Hill's mighty air arm, Lynn Beightol, is at it again this year. The 16-year-old quarterback who sparked the Sentinels to city and state championship last season on the strength of his quick thinking and strong right arm is again leading the Red Raiders toward an undefeated record in 1950 as Fort Hill has rolled past four foes without a loss.

And one of the reasons the Sentinels appear so invincible on the gridiron is that Beightol has completed 22 passes in 46 attempts for 328 yards and nine touchdowns thus far in only four games. That makes for half the scoring punch of the powerful Hilltoppers who have tallied 18 six-pointers in crushing aside Washington and Lee of Arlington, 19-17, Keyser 39-6, Moorefield 32-0 and Martinsburg 28-7.

He's had only three of his tosses intercepted, too!

Beightol is also a tower of strength on defense for Coach Bill Hahn's eleven, being one of the best pass defenders and safety men in the city. His ability to run and block aid immeasurably a well-geared Fort Hill offense.

• — • — •

Fort Hill's newest gridiron opponent, Linsly Military Institute, who will play host to the Sentinels in Wheeling, W. Va., Saturday, Nov. 4, chalked up their third victory last week by turning back St. Clairsville, 20-0.

The Sentinels and Linsly did not meet last year.

Nats Sell Singleton

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Pitcher Elmer Singleton, who came to the Washington Senators from the Pacific Coast League earlier this year, was sold today to Toronto of the International League, Vice President Calvin Griffith announced.

Hocotia Scores Second Victory At Bowie Track

Rallies From Last In Bayard Purse

BOWIE RACE TRACK, Md., Oct. 11 (AP) — Coming from last Dr. Wilmer C. Ensor's Hocotia scored his second straight triumph here by defeating eight other two-year-olds in the $3,000 Bayard Purse at a mile and 70 yards.

Nina Rose, a swift closing second, bowed by a neck and two lengths farther back came Miriam's Boy. The winner, ridden by Willie Downs, paid $6.00 for $2 in the role of favorite.

Miriam's Boy took the lead and held it for more than a half mile. Downs, breaking from the outside post position, was forced to circle horses on the backstretch and did not catch the frontrunner until the far turn.

Around the bend the pair raced head and head at the three-sixteenths pole. Hocotia finally drew clear from Miriam's Boy. Nina Rose threatened with a rush in the home lane but hung a bit in the final strides.

Another bulging daily double was posted here today as Chaldson won the first race at $10.40 and hooked up with Town March, an $83.60 victor for a $691.40 return.

Symposium Is Winner

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 11 (AP) — Glen Riddle Farm's Symposium turned it on in the stretch today to capture Garden State Park's featured six furlongs Pennac Purse by a nodding head from the frontrunning Valpam whom he caught in the final strides. Winter Wheat, the favorite, was third in a field of ten.

Jockey Sam Boulmetis, who rode the winner, held his mount off the sizzling early pace set by Valpam, but turned the gray son of War Relic loose at the head of the stretch. He came on with a powerful rush in the middle of the track from that point and nipped the pacemaker in the very last strides.

Eire Jockey Wins

ELMONT, L. I., Oct. 1 (AP) — There was an Irish tinge to the Temple Gwathmey Steeplechase handicap, feature of the closing day of the two-day United Hunts meeting at Belmont Park today.

Lowry Watkins' Tourist List, ably ridden by Martin Molony, ace rider from Eire, came off the pace to win by 10 lengths going away from Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Oedipus, the odds-on favorite, who was piloted by Molony's brother, Tim. Another six lengths back came Rokeby Stables' American Way.

Mill River Stable's Monkey Wrench and Justin Funkhouser's Palaja, coupled with the winner, were the only other starters in the gruelling two and a quarter mile test.

Chancescript Easy First

SALEM, N. H., Oct. 11 (AP) — Ralph Lowe's Chancescript galloped leisurely to an 11 length victory in the Eddie Hurley Memorial Purse today at Rockingham Park.

Hocotia Scores Second Victory At Bowie Track

Rallies From Last In Bayard Purse

BOWIE RACE TRACK, Md., Oct. 11 (AP) — Coming from last Dr. Wilmer C. Ensor's Hocotia scored his second straight triumph here by defeating eight other two-year-olds in the $3,000 Bayard Purse at a mile and 70 yards.

Nina Rose, a swift closing second, bowed by a neck and two lengths farther back came Miriam's Boy. The winner, ridden by Willie Downs, paid $6.00 for $2 in the role of favorite.

Miriam's Boy took the lead and held it for more than a half mile. Downs, breaking from the outside post position, was forced to circle horses on the backstretch and did not catch the frontrunner until the far turn.

Around the bend the pair raced head and head at the three-sixteenths pole. Hocotia finally drew clear from Miriam's Boy. Nina Rose threatened with a rush in the home lane but hung a bit in the final strides.

Another bulging daily double was posted here today as Chaldson won the first race at $10.40 and hooked up with Town March, an $83.60 victor for a $691.40 return.

Symposium Is Winner

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 11 (AP) — Glen Riddle Farm's Symposium turned it on in the stretch today to capture Garden State Park's featured six furlongs Pennac Purse by a nodding head from the frontrunning Valpam whom he caught in the final strides. Winter Wheat, the favorite, was third in a field of ten.

Jockey Sam Boulmetis, who rode the winner, held his mount off the sizzling early pace set by Valpam, but turned the gray son of War Relic loose at the head of the stretch. He came on with a powerful rush in the middle of the track from that point and nipped the pacemaker in the very last strides.

Eire Jockey Wins

ELMONT, L. I., Oct. 1 (AP) — There was an Irish tinge to the Temple Gwathmey Steeplechase handicap, feature of the closing day of the two-day United Hunts meeting at Belmont Park today.

Lowry Watkins' Tourist List, ably ridden by Martin Molony, ace rider from Eire, came off the pace to win by 10 lengths going away from Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Oedipus, the odds-on favorite, who was piloted by Molony's brother, Tim. Another six lengths back came Rokeby Stables' American Way.

Mill River Stable's Monkey Wrench and Justin Funkhouser's Palaja, coupled with the winner, were the only other starters in the gruelling two and a quarter mile test.

Chancescript Easy First

SALEM, N. H., Oct. 11 (AP) — Ralph Lowe's Chancescript galloped leisurely to an 11 length victory in the Eddie Hurley Memorial Purse today at Rockingham Park.

The Conscript — Ona Chance colt took command at the clubhouse turn and continued to increase the margin over Mrs. Robert Cramer's Tattenham which was second, a length and a half better than Potato Chip Farm's Chancelot.

Despite the slow track and lack of competition Chancescript ran the mile and 16th in 1:46 1-5.

Victory Post Honors Group Called To Army

Westernport Legion Starts Member Drive

WESTERNPORT — Five World War II Veterans were honored by Victory Post No. 155, American Legion at their home with a shrimp feed

Harry Grove, Thomas Donnelly, Frank Bartlett, Jack Fazenbaker and Ernest Metcalfe the five veterans who will enter the service again in a few days were each presented with a gift by the post.

The principal talk was delivered by Thomas B. Finan, of Fort Cumberland Post, Cumberland, chairman of the Mountain District Americanism committee.

Finan spoke in behalf of the Ober law and why it should be retained and that veterans groups are plugging more for it than any other organizations.

The law provides any one holding public office after June 1950 or is a candidate for office or holds a public office must sign a loyalty pledge and oppose the overthrow of the government by force and violence.

The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. G. Stanley Schwind, rector of St. James Episcopal Church.

Talks were given by Russel C. Paupe, Mountain District commander and a member of Fort Cumberland Post, Cumberland who spoke on the importance of increasing the Legion's membership. The present membership of the district is 3,000 and Paupe hopes to raise it 3,500 more this year.

James McNeil, commander of Farrady Post, Frostburg, and district membership chairman pointed out the benefits the Legion provides and why all veterans should become a member.

Remarks were made by J. Estel Kenny, a past district commander and past commander of Victory Post; George P. Kight, mayor of Westernport; Harry Welsh a commissioner of Westernport; Harold Fredlock, mayor of Piedmont, W. Va.; Ellsworth S. Boal and Louis Fatkin, member of Victory post and Judge Advocate.

Moving pictures were shown of the 1949 World Series Baseball games between the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 11—(INS)—Last week, every time Dore Schary called a conference at MGM, the boys were listening to the big game between the Yanks and the Phillies.

Said Dore, "If baseball is this popular at the studio, it's certainly that way all over the country." So he buys "Angels In the Outfield," a baseball story by Father R. F. Grady. He then handed it to Clarence Brown to produce and direct before the baseball season next year.

Spencer Tracy, nominated as the star, plays an explosive manager whose team wins all the games, but the following years drops to the bottom of the league. Then a miracle happens. Well, the author is a priest.

• — • — •

Anne Baxter, who thanked me prettily for what I had to say about her performance in "All About Eve," said she hadn't an idea what Darryl Zanuck had planned as her next. Well, today I can tell Anne that Darryl has bought "Something For The Birds" to star her and Paul Douglas.

Anne Baxter

The "Birds" in the title comes from the fact that Anne plays an ornithologist married to a busy lobbyist, played, of course, by Paul Douglas.

The original story by Albin Josephy and Joseph Petracca, has been handed to Sam Engel who is named producer.

• — • — •

Joe DiMaggio, the baseball hero of the moment who pulled such a nifty for the Yanks last week, is flying here for his son Joe's ninth birthday. When he comes here, Joe and his former wife, Dorothy Arnold, will talk over the chance of a reconciliation.

Dorothy is sick in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital and Joe has been on the telephone every day inquiring about her.

He's crazy about his son and there has never been anyone who meant as much as his former wife. After Dorothy left Joe she married a wealthy easterner, but they, too, are now divorced.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Humphrey and Lauren Bacall Bogart take off for New York tomorrow night. He's doing a radio show there Sunday. Baby says there will be no repetition of the panda incident because she's going to buy all the toys.

Sheila Ryan is an every-day visitor to the hospital in Palms to see Pat Buttram, who was seriously injured some weeks ago.

Jean Simmons, who planed in Tuesday night, was met by Stewart Granger—but of course. Paramount is releasing her picture, "Trio," and it's possible when her contract with J. Arthur Rank is up 18 months hence, she may be persuaded to make a movie for them.

Although Burt Lancaster cleared the script of "The Naked And The Dead" with the U. S. War Department, he is voluntarily postponing its production. He feels this is no time to make an anti-war film.

Bill Hickman, the boy who had a freak accident when a straw punctured his eardrum, is now out of the coma. His doctors say he is doing nicely.

Bob Peters stepped out without Adele Mara and was with Marcia Mae Jones, former child star, at Ciro's.

Vic Damone is down with a bad infection in his leg and has been quite sick for the past two days.

Reports from San Francisco say that Maureen O'Sullivan and John Farrow got a big hand when they spoke at the Association of Catholic Newsmen. Their subject was on how to raise a family in Hollywood.

Audrey Totter goes to her home town, Joliet, Illinois, October 20, to attend the marriage of her brother, Bolger Totter. He's marrying Shirley Gibson, a Joliet girl, and there will certainly be excitement in that town when Audrey gets there.

Gene Tunney, who has been here for the American Legion convention, was made honorary fire chief when he visited the Mocambo.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Called To Service

Harold L. Rose, junior waterworks operator at the Lake Gordon filter plant for the past two years, will report to Fort Knox, Ky., October 16 for duty with the Quartermaster Corps.

Hughes Granted Removal In Trial

Associate Judge George Henderson signed an order in Circuit Court yesterday removing the manslaughter trial of 24-year-old William J. Hughes to Washington County.

Hughes was the driver of an empty coal truck that struck and killed Thomas Robertson, 43, of Lonaconing on May 3 during picketing operations on the Old Cemetery Road, Knapp's Meadow.

The truck driven by Hughes was returning from the tipple of the Georges Creek Coal Company and ran into two pickets—Robertson, who died that night in Miners Hospital at Frostburg, and Melvin Cuthbertson, 36, of Gilmore. Cuthbertson suffered a fractured wrist.

Several affidavits were filed with the court attempting to prove that Hughes, due to the circumstances of the case, could not receive a fair and impartial trial here.

The trial will probably be held the latter part of November at Hagerstown.

Half a teaspoonful of baking soda added to boiling frosting will keep it from running.

The Prize That Made St. Louis Famous

THE ONLY THING the matter with "Pulitzer Prize Playhouse," a new hour-long dramatic production (ABC-TV 9 p. m. EST Fridays), is that it can't very well come up with such nourishing fare as its opening production, "You Can't Take It With You" every week. There are very few plays as rich in comic invention as "You Can't Take It With You" which means that not all of the Pulitzer Prize Playhouse productions are going to maintain that high level.

John Crosby

Still, I imagine they'll try awfully hard. The Schlitz Brewing Company, which happens to be paying the bills for this program, has shot the works, moneywise, as the saying goes. There were no evidences of economy around "You Can't Take It With You" which was as stylish and lavish a production as I've ever seen on television. Charles Coburn and Ella Raines were shipped in from Hollywood to add tone to the proceedings. Mr. Coburn proved again that he is a very polished and adroit actor, Miss Raines that she is a very pretty and handsomely constructed girl.

• — • — •

While those two have perhaps the greatest value on a marquee, the rest by no means unknown cast were pretty wonderful too. I should like especially to plant a kiss on the cheek of Nydia Westman who played Penny Sycamore with wild abandon. There were also some fine performances by Joseph Buloff and Joan McCracken. As I remarked earlier, no expense was spared.

"You Can't Take It With You" — you must have heard some rumors about this — is a tale about a man who won't pay his taxes, which he considers foolish, and advises everyone to take it easy. George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart brought it to Broadway in 1936. The critics, while recognizing the superb craftsmanship and inspiration of the play, complained that it didn't have much of a message. In those days — depression days — the message was considered essential. Just like Western Union. Telegrams and plays contained messages. Or they contained nothing.

Today, that malarky has sensibly been modified. A play has other things on its mind. Still — for reasons I'm working on—the play has a message today where it didn't in 1936. Relax and enjoy yourself, kid. In 1936, that philosophy was treasonable; today! it's just subversive. I believe one of the reasons I enjoyed "You Can't Take It With You" on television so much is simply because no one else in recent years has advised me to take it easy — my natural instinct — in a long time. "You Can't Take It With You" is a paean to individualism. There has been nothing like that since 1880 when individualism was considered reasonably sacred.

But let's get back to the show.

"Pulitzer Prize Playhouse" was opened with more hoopla and elbow-bending than any television program to date. Editors and publishers and radio and television columnists were disgorged on the city from places as far away as California and you know how far away that is. Speeches were emitted by all sorts of prominent people, including Joseph Pulitzer, editor of "The St. Louis Post Dispatch" — where this column occasionally appears—and Ervin Eihlein, president of Schlitz, "The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous" (I was born in Milwaukee and along with Alfred Lunt, Jack Carson Edna Ferber and some other ex-Milwaukeeans, I have been trying to out-distance the fame of Schlitz for years. All of us, in leaving our homes, kiss our mothers on the cheek and say: 'Mother, when I return, Milwaukee will be famous for having produced me rather than Schlitz.' None of us has ever succeeded in living up to this boast.)

To get back to "Pulitzer Prize Playhouse," the only thing that was missing at this opening was Charles Coburn leaving his footprint on wet cement. This is a new thing is television—these magniloquent premieres — and they are certainly significant. Gads, junior, I remember way back when you couldn't even get a cameraman to go to a television opening, short of paying him money.

• — • — •

"Pulitzer Prize Playhouse" will run out of Pulitzer Prize plays very rapidly and is not, fortunately, limited to them. You'll also see dramatizations of Pulitzer Prize novels and Pulitzer Prize news stories (one this week). Not always has the Pulitzer Prize Committee pleased everyone (Who does?) but the aim of Joseph Pulitzer the Elder (repeated at this program's opening by his son) is still one that every editor and publisher and reporter should memorize:

"Our public and our press will rise and fall together. An able, desired, interested public-service press with trained intelligence to know the right and courage to do it can preserve that public virtue without which popular government is a sham and a mockery. A cynical, mercenary, demagogic press will produce in time a people as base as itself. The power to mould the future of the republic will be in the hands of the journalists of future generations."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

V H  K V G  U V  Y H M ' C  C G E P U J G
C L H B T M  W G  U V P H T P G M  U V  C G J B-
T K E  W B C U V G C C — J H D G.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote—PUBLIC NECESSITY IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN PRIVATE—LAW.

The Prize That Made St. Louis Famous

THE ONLY THING the matter with "Pulitzer Prize Playhouse," a new hour-long dramatic production (ABC-TV 9 p. m. EST Fridays), is that it can't very well come up with such nourishing fare as its opening production, "You Can't Take It With You" every week. There are very few plays as rich in comic invention as "You Can't Take It With You" which means that not all of the Pulitzer Prize Playhouse productions are going to maintain that high level.

John Crosby

Still, I imagine they'll try awfully hard. The Schlitz Brewing Company, which happens to be paying the bills for this program, has shot the works, moneywise, as the saying goes. There were no evidences of economy around "You Can't Take It With You" which was as stylish and lavish a production as I've ever seen on television. Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

V H K V G U V Y H M ' C C G E P U J G C L H B T M W G U V P H T P G M U V C G J B - T K E W B C U V G C C — J H D G.

In Memoriam

A tribute of love to our Mother, Addie Cummingham, who passed away October 12, 1945.

O Lord keep green the grave that lies
Beneath the wide and starry skies,
Keep sweet the sleep and give her rest,
Whose hands are folded over her breast.

DAUGHTERS

In loving memory of our dear Wife and Mother, Minnie B. Close, who passed away eight years ago today, October 12, 1942.

She's gone but not forgotten
Eight years of Heaven and Rest
We never shall forget her
Because she was the best.

Sadly missed by Husband and Children

In Memoriam

A tribute of love to our Mother, Addie Cummingham, who passed away October 12, 1945.

O Lord keep green the grave that lies
Beneath the wide and starry skies,
Keep sweet the sleep and give her rest,
Whose hands are folded over her breast.

DAUGHTERS

In loving memory of our dear Wife and Mother, Minnie B. Close, who passed away eight years ago today, October 12, 1942.

She's gone but not forgotten
Eight years of Heaven and Rest
We never shall forget her
Because she was the best.

Sadly missed by Husband and Children

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

DANGER OF RUFF CLEAR

YOUR side has all except a few of the high cards in the deck. Yet one of the opponents was able to make a suit overcall of the opening bid. Since his hand could not have been strong, it is a certainty he had great distribution to make his overcall sound. His suit is sure to be quite long if he was vulnerable when he made the overcall. Such being the case, his partner could not have more than a card or so in the suit, if you have a number of cards in it. Hence the danger of a defensive ruff by his partner is clear and you should try to guard yourself against it.

South was one of those fellows who prided himself upon his quick mind. So, after he won the heart K lead with the A, he saw almost immediately that he could ruff out his three heart losers in the dummy. He therefore led the 3 to the second trick and put on the spade 5. East now gave him a brace of stunning shocks. He over-ruffed with the spade 8 and returned the club 5, which West ruffed to beat the contract.

Anything but superficial thinking would have told South that the vulnerable West had to have a really long suit to have made his heart overcall at the level of two. It was highly likely that East had only a singleton, in which event the latter would be void after the first trick and ready to ruff. That kind of reckoning should have caused South to use his spade A and K on the second and third tricks to clear trumps, then without risk ruff one of his low hearts in dummy. The other two could have been put on diamond tops. After that the club finesse could have been tried for the extra trick. It would have assured the contract even if it failed. When it worked, he would have had all 13 tricks.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree divorcing the Plaintiff A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant.

The bill states that they were married on the 10th day of March, 1922, and that the Defendant abandoned and deserted the Plaintiff on or about the 15th day of October, 1922, and has declared his intention to live with her no longer, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months last past prior to the bringing of this suit and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

That the Plaintiff has been a resident of the State of Maryland for more than one year prior to the bringing of this action, and the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and his present address is unknown, and the Plaintiff asks for an Order of Publication against the Defendant and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 20th day of September, 1950, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, sitting in equity, ordered that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County once in each of four successive weeks on or before the 23rd day of October, 1950, giving notice to said absent Defendant of the object and substance of this bill and warning him to appear in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 8th day of November, 1950, to show cause, if any he might have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

General Recovery Snaps Market's Losing Streak

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — A general recovery in the stock market today snapped a two-day losing streak and put prices ahead by a few cents to more than $1 a share.

The turn-around was brought about by the railroads which made substantial progress, and virtually every section of the market responded.

Buyers were bidding right up to the close, and there were only scattered setbacks here and there. Tomorrow the stock exchange is closed for Columbus Day.

The Milwaukee Road, the day's most active issue, was up ⅝ at 17⅛.

Western Maryland Railroad, ninth most active, lost 1⅞ at 18⅛. Opposition among a number of stockholders has developed against the proposed reorganization plan.

Volatile Nickel Plate ran up $7 before dropping back to close up $5.50 at $175.50. Both Southern Railway at 45½ and Baltimore & Ohio at 16 made good progress, reaching new highs for the year during the day.

Radio Corp. was active and closed at 18⅞ up ⅜, and others in the radio-TV group advanced substantially including Motorola up 2⅜ at 56, Zenith up 1⅛ at 59½, and Philco up 1¼ at 47¾.

General Motors was third most active issue was weakened ½ at 52¼.

The volume of trading expanded on the rise of 2,190,000 shares as compared with yesterday's 1,870,000 shares, the second day of falling prices.

DANGER OF RUFF CLEAR

YOUR side has all except a few of the high cards in the deck. Yet one of the opponents was able to make a suit overcall of the opening bid. Since his hand could not have been strong, it is a certainty he had great distribution to make his overcall sound. His suit is sure to be quite long if he was vulnerable when he made the overcall. Such being the case, his partner could not have more than a card or so in the suit, if you have a number of cards in it. Hence the danger of a defensive ruff by his partner is clear and you should try to guard yourself against it.

South was one of those fellows who prided himself upon his quick mind. So, after he won the heart K lead with the A, he saw almost immediately that he could ruff out his three heart losers in the dummy. He therefore led the 3 to the second trick and put on the spade 5. East now gave him a brace of stunning shocks. He over-ruffed with the spade 8 and returned the club 5, which West ruffed to beat the contract.

Anything but superficial thinking would have told South that the vulnerable West had to have a really long suit to have made his heart overcall at the level of two. It was highly likely that East had only a singleton, in which event the latter would be void after the first trick and ready to ruff. That kind of reckoning should have caused South to use his spade A and K on the second and third tricks to clear trumps, then without risk ruff one of his low hearts in dummy. The other two could have been put on diamond tops. After that the club finesse could have been tried for the extra trick. It would have assured the contract even if it failed. When it worked, he would have had all 13 tricks.

How should South play for his 4-Spades after West scores two clubs and leads the heart 9?

General Recovery Snaps Market's Losing Streak

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — A general recovery in the stock market today snapped a two-day losing streak and put prices ahead by a few cents to more than $1 a share.

150 Attend GOP School Of Politics

Precinct Level Organization Cited

An estimated 150 Republican party workers "went to school" last night at a four-hour training session held at the Moose Home under sponsorship of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee.

Earl E. Manges, chairman of the county State Central Committee, opened the meeting.

Presiding was F. Trowbridge vom Baur, team captain for the National Republican School of Politics, who was assisted by James A. Hogan and Mrs. Gladys P. Gordon.

Vom Baur, a Washington attorney and veteran political expert, is a former chairman of the campaign committee of the Young Republican National Federation.

He said Maryland is the seventh state in which Republican schools of politics have been conducted by his team.

Started Last June

The series, which originated in Missouri last June, is the first of its kind in the history of the Republican party since its organization in 1854.

In fact, vom Baur said, the school is the first of its kind to be held by either the GOP or Democratic parties.

Since last June, vom Baur and his team have conducted school sessions in Missouri, West Virginia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Delaware and Virginia, as well as Maryland.

The final session before the November 7 campaign period is scheduled Friday night in Alexandria, Va., vom Baur said.

Two purposes of the school, vom Baur said, are to give party members instruction in practical politics and to arouse enthusiasm to insure a Republican victory at the polls.

Maryland is regarded as one of the states, vom Baur declared, because "(Senator Millard E.) Tydings can be beaten if we put on an aggressive campaign."

Issues Statement

In a statement issued at last night's session, vom Baur said:

"With this National Republican School of Politics, the party is coming down out of the clouds to that good old precinct level, which is the only real firing line on the political field of battle, the only place to meet each voter individually, and where campaigns are really won or lost.

"The Democrat Party always has been more organization-minded than the Republican Party, while our party has focused its attention primarily on high principles and a long-range view of the public's welfare.

"For instance, the Democrats control virtually all of the big city machines in the United States. They derive a great part of their political strength from sheer organization. It is high time that we Republicans became more organization-minded, for political organization is the selling function of the party. This National Republican School of Politics represents a new emphasis on political organization and more aggressive selling operations.

"During the past 20 years there has been no deficiency in the quality of our Republican leaders or Republican principles. Our failure, if there has been one, has been a failure to sell to the American people the value and importance of what we Republicans have to offer. Selling in the political field goes by

Trowbridge vom Baur, Washington, D. C., attorney, who is team captain; Mrs. Gladys P. Gordon, also of Washington, administrative assistant in the Women's Division of the Republican National Committee; and James A. Hogan, New Jersey campaign expert. Standing (same order) are William F. Jones, president of the Judge Huster Republican Club, this city; James A. Park, Lonaconing, secretary-treasurer of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee; Earl E. # Protest Voiced To W. Md. Rail Financing Plan

New Yorker Says He Will Oppose Proposal

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—A holder of Western Maryland Railway second preferred stock said today he would oppose before the Interstate Commerce Commission a proposed recapitalization plan approved by the railway's directors.

Frank C. La Grange, senior partner of La Grange & Co., member of the New York Stock Exchange, described the plan as "totally unsatisfactory."

The proposal, announced by President Eugene S. Williams of the Western Maryland, calls for elimination of accrued dividends of $24,217,830 or $136.50 a share on the 7 per cent cumulative first preferred stock by payment in capital stock.

La Grange said today he owns or represents more than 30 per cent of the present second preferred stock. To effect the recapitalization plan it must be assented to by holders of at least 75 per cent of outstanding shares of each class of stock.

The plan proposes to modify the Railway's charter to permit issuance of new 5 per cent first preferred of $100 par, cumulative to 15 per cent; new non-cumulative 4 per cent second preferred to $100 par, and new common shares of $25 par.

LaGrange said the Western Maryland for years past has fully earned its $7 cumulative first preferred dividend plus its $4 second preferred dividend on an annual basis, but has taken no steps to reduce the arrearages on the senior securities "so that junior holders might share in the very high earnings."

Court To Be Closed

Trial Magistrates Court in the Union Street Building will be closed all day today in observance of Columbus Day.

Lane, McKeldin Rib Each Other

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11 (AP)—Maryland's two gubernatorial candidates smiled jovially at each other over luncheon plates today, shadow-boxed at political issues for some 300 clubwomen, then went their seperate ways to campaign at a less subtle place.

Attorney General Hall Hammond and State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes also addressed the Women's Civic League of Baltimore, but with Hammond's Republican opponent absent and Tawes unopposed, interest centered on the verbal jousting of Gov. Lane and Theodore R. McKeldin.

Each speaker was given five minutes. Both Lane and McKeldin liberalized that requirement by several minutes.

McKeldin, Republican, used his allotted time—and more—almost wholly by naming off the appointments he made while Baltimore mayor from 1943 to 1947. His aim, he said, was to show he forgot political lines and picked the best men regardless of political party.

The list he read was scattered liberally with Democrats.

The non-partisan crowd got a kick out of good-natured ribbing between Lane and McKeldin at one point in McKeldin's talk.

McKeldin turned to the Governor to apologize for exceeding the time limit.

"You can stay here all day if you keep naming these good Democrats you appointed," the Governor replied.

"And they can stay good Democrats," McKeldin returned, "just as long as they vote for me."

The exhibit is in charge of Dale Arner, wildlife technician for the State Game and Inland Fish Commission.

Another feature of tonight's program will be a tractor driving demonstration, starting at 8 p.m. It will be conducted by members of the Flintstone 4-H Boys Club under direction of Joseph M. Steger, assistant county farm agent.

Weather

Cumberlanders are beginning to learn that they must "make hay while the sun shines," and they also must have learned what to do when it rains, for the clear, blue skies of Tuesday again turned to cloudy-gray last night and .02 of an inch of rain fell before midnight. The temperatures varied but little from a low of 49 degrees to a high of 68 degrees in Constitution Park. Downtown the low was 52 degrees and the high was 72 degrees. If you like rain, this morning will be your day, so says the weatherman; but if you like sunshine, sleep until noon, for the forecast predicts a sunny afternoon today. It should be cooler tonight.

Beall, Gunter Complete Tour Of Montgomery

Visit To Frederick County Opens Today

State candidates on the Republican ticket will begin a two-day tour of Frederick County early today, with a GOP rally scheduled tonight at the Brunswick Fire Hall.

This was reported last night by William A. Gunter, local attorney who is the Republican candidate for Maryland attorney general.

Gunter and Rep. J. Glenn Beall, Frostburg, who is seeking re-election to the House of Representatives from the Sixth District, were guest speakers yesterday at the annual luncheon meeting of the Montgomery County Federation of Republican Women.

The meeting was held at the Glendale Country Club, near Bethesda.

Gunter told the 142 persons attending that attendance at night mass meetings held recently by state GOP candidates in Baltimore, St. Mary's and Calvert Counties "indicated widespread interest in the coming election and presaged a Republican victory in November."

Reviews Spending

He commented that the meetings were largely attended not only by Republicans but by supporters of George P. Mahoney, who was defeated for governor in the Democratic primary.

Beall reviewed Democratic federal extravagance in non-essential expenditures which he said are "mounting higher and higher."

The Frostburg legislator added:

"If the brakes to overspending are not applied by a new Republican Congress, the take-home pay of the working man, already reduced by recent federal legislation, will have to be further reduced in the not too distant future."

Following the luncheon meeting, Beall and Gunter visited a number of Republican and independent Democratic leaders in Bethesda, Rockville, Gaithersburg, Hyattstown and Urbana.

The Montgomery County leaders gave assurance of their support and predicted a complete Republican sweep in November, Gunter reported.

Sidelight Noted

An interesting sidelight was revealed, Gunter said, when independent Democratic leaders were asked whether the six-month feud between the factions of Mahoney and his Democratic opponent, Gov. William Preston Lane, had healed.

"They only smiled and said 'We'll be able to tell you more about that after the November votes have been counted,'" Gunter related.

Early this morning Beall and Gunter will meet Theodore R. McKeldin, GOP candidate for governor, and John Marshall Butler, U. S. Senate candidate, in Frederick.

The group will tour Frederick County today, attend the Brunswick rally tonight and complete the tour tomorrow, returning home Saturday for a weekend rest.

Materials Are Ordered For Street Work

Department Hears Talk On Safety

Equipment and materials needed for work of the Street Department this winter and next spring have been ordered, Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder said yesterday.

They include lumber for forms, rock salt and "banox", mixture to spread on snowy streets which prevents automobiles from rusting; and cold patch, a material used to patch holes in streets during winter weather.

Guard rails for Niagara Street and Central Avenue are also on order.

As time permits, Mrs. Roeder said, work is continuing on cleaning and repairing alleys and cleaning the 1,100 catch basins on city streets.

Streets Restored

A good deal of time has been required in recent months to restore streets after work has been done on water mains and gas lines.

The department has purchased a battery charger which will save both time and money in servicing the fleet of 36 cars and trucks, Mrs. Roeder said.

A local contractor has started work on reroofing the city warehouse at Valley Street, and a contract will be let soon for resurfacing sections of five streets.

Extension of First Street is continuing and part of the interceptor sewer in the downtown section between Pershing and Baltimore Streets is being cleaned.

This winter, Mrs. Roeder said, the department plans to start construction of a Michigan Avenue sewer, for which plans have been approved by the State Department of Health.

Any paving work which can be financed through the revolving fund will be done next spring.

Other current work of the Street Department includes trimming dead wood and branches from trees to eliminate hazardous conditions on public streets.

All equipment has been removed from Riverside Park and stored to make way for flood control work in that area.

Safety Talk Given

Guest speaker was Lynn Walker, safety director of the State Industrial Accident Commission, who said Cumberland is the second city in Maryland to institute a safety program for city employes.

Walker cited safety procedures to use on the job and pointed out that safety training can be carried over into home life.

The safety official said that "keeping your mind on the job" is one of the most important points to remember, adding that safety is merely a matter of using common sense.

Any dangerous conditions should be reported to supervisors, he added.

Mrs. Roeder said safety equipment such as goggles is already on order and that the department is holding safety meetings.

In addition, a Red Cross film on first aid is being secured through the co-operation of Mrs. Lee W. Witherup, executive secretary of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross.

The film will be shown at a department meeting as soon as it is available. Selected representatives of tht department, possibly foremen, will be asked to take a Red Cross first aid course, Mrs. Roeder said.

Spotters Meeting Today

The Oldtown Airplane Spotters will hold a meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in Oldtown High School Auditorium, according to Ross Shaw, chief observer. Shaw will give instructions at the meeting to all volunteer members.

Lane's Promise To Slash Sales Tax Hit By McKeldin

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11 (AP) — Theodore R. McKeldin contended tonight that Governor Lane's proposals for lightening the sales tax burden apparently were made "in a last desperate effort to save himself from the gathering fury of outraged taxpayers."

McKeldin, Republican candidate for governor, said in his first radio-television address of the campaign that the Governor "stubbornly refused to acknowledge the possibility of reductions (in the sales tax) until political events compelled him to do so."

Both the Democratic and Republican campaign platforms call for a raise in the exemption base of the tax from the present 14 cents to 50 cents. The Republican platform was adopted two days before that of the Democrats.

May Question Move

"Voters may well ask," McKeldin said, "why Governor Lane hasn't afforded the people the necessary relief before this. x x x

"Even during the late primary campaign, he and his spellbinders sought to ridicule Mr. (George P.) Mahoney's contention that the sales tax exemption could and should be increased and the taxes lessened.

"What conclusion can the independent voter draw from all this but that the Governor has never entertained any genuine desire to reduce the tax load, except now in a last desperate effort to save himself from the gathering fury of the outraged taxpayers?"

Mahoney was Lane's major opponent in the Democratic primary.

McKeldin said that "if there is to be tax relief x x x the voters will, I am sure, prefer to entrust the job to someone other than the Governor, who foisted the sales tax on them, and who stubbornly refused to acknowledge the possibility of reductions until political events compelled him to do so."

Charges "Double Talk"

Turning to the question of redistribution of state revenues, the Republican charged that Governor Lane has engaged in "double-talk" in his campaign speeches on the subject.

"The Governor has been telling the people of the counties that x x x they get more from the State Treasury than they contribute in taxes," he said. "And he has been telling the people in the (Baltimore) city that they get a larger share of the taxes back from the state than they ever got before.

"The attempt here is to convince the people that the sum of the parts is greater than the whole."

McKeldin contended that "the reflective citizen will at once recognize this for what it is — plain sophistry and double-talk."

Three "Elijah" Soloists Are Known In City Music Circles

Three of four soloists selected by the Cumberland Choral Society for leads in Mendelsohn's "Elijah" will be well known to Cumberland music lovers when they return for the performance Tuesday night.

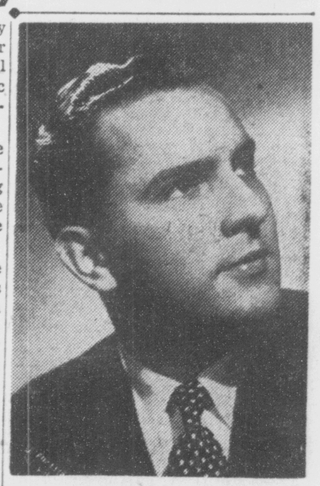
Probably the best known of the trio is Miss Barbara Troxell, soprano, who has been taking leading roles in local music events for the past 11 years. She will soon join the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Others scheduled to return are Anne Dawson, contralto, who sings regularly at the First Presbyterian Church, New York City, and William Maun, who has sung a number of leading roles with the National Broadcasting Company's Opera Theater.

The fourth soloist, Thomas Johnson, will be coming here for the first time, but he already has a record of achievement with the NBC television theater show and is soloist at the Middle Collegiate Church in New York.

Jack Platt, director of the choral society, said Miss Troxell may be making her last appearance here. She begins rehearsals with the New York Metropolitan Company October 20, a few days after singing here.

Maun will sing the leading role in the Jewish oratorio which tells the story of one of the prophets. He will be supported by a 75-voice chorus made up of Choral Society members.



THOMAS JOHNSON

Rabbi Herbert J. Wilner of B'er Chayim Congregation will read the historic prologue while Aden Lewis will accompany at the piano and Joseph D. Derry will accompany at the organ.

The performance which marks the opening of the Choral Society's fall an winter concert season will be held in Allegany High School. Curtain time is 8 p. m.

150 Attend GOP School Of Politics

Precinct Level Organization Cited

An estimated 150 Republican party workers "went to school" last night at a four-hour training session held at the Moose Home under sponsorship of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee.

Three experts in various phases of practical politics conducted the session.

Keynote theme was emphasis on importance of the precinct worker in campaign organization.

Earl E. Manges, chairman of the county State Central Committee, opened the meeting.

Presiding was F. Trowbridge vom Baur, team captain for the National Republican School of Politics, who was assisted by James A. Hogan and Mrs. Gladys P. Gordon.

Vom Baur, a Washington attorney and veteran political expert, is a former chairman of the campaign committee of the Young Republican National Federation.

He said Maryland is the seventh state in which Republican schools of politics have been conducted by his team.

Started Last June

The series, which originated in Missouri last June, is the first of its kind in the history of the Republican party since its organization in 1854.

In fact, vom Baur said, the school is the first of its kind to be held by either the GOP or Democratic parties.

It is one of the "tangible results of the fighting spirit" of the Republican National Committee under leadership of its new chairman, Guy George Gabrielson, he declared.

Since last June, vom Baur and his team have conducted school sessions in Missouri, West Virginia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Delaware and Virginia, as well as Maryland.

The final session before the November 7 campaign period is scheduled Friday night in Alexandria, Va., vom Baur said.

Two purposes of the school, vom Baur said, are to give party members instruction in practical politics and to arouse enthusiasm to insure a Republican victory at the polls.

Maryland is regarded as one of the states, vom Baur declared, because "(Senator Millard E.) Tydings can be beaten if we put on an aggressive campaign."

Issues Statement

In a statement issued at last night's session, vom Baur said:

"With this National Republican School of Politics, the party is coming down out of the clouds to that good old precinct level, which is the only real firing line on the political field of battle, the only place to meet each voter individually, and where campaigns are really won or lost.

"The Democrat Party always has been more organization-minded than the Republican Party, while our party has focused its attention primarily on high principles and a long-range view of the public's welfare.

"For instance, the Democrats control virtually all of the big city machines in the United States. They derive a great part of their political strength from sheer organization. It is high time that we Republicans became more organization-minded, for political organization is the selling function of the party. This National Republican School of Politics represents a new emphasis on political organization and more aggressive selling operations.

"During the past 20 years there has been no deficiency in the quality of our Republican leaders or Republican principles. Our failure, if there has been one, has been a failure to sell to the American people the value and importance of what we Republicans have to offer. Selling in the political field goes by

Gordon, also of Washington, administrative assistant in the Women's Division of the Republican National Committee; and James A. Hogan, New Jersey campaign expert. Standing (same order) are William F. # Protest Voiced To W. Md. Rail Financing Plan

New Yorker Says He Will Oppose Proposal

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—A holder of Western Maryland Railway second preferred stock said today he would oppose before the Interstate Commerce Commission a proposed recapitalization plan approved by the railway's directors.

Frank C. La Grange, senior partner of La Grange & Co., member of the New York Stock Exchange, described the plan as "totally unsatisfactory."

The proposal, announced by President Eugene S. Williams of the Western Maryland, calls for elimination of accrued dividends of $24,217,830 or $136.50 a share on the 7 per cent cumulative first preferred stock by payment in capital stock.

La Grange said today he owns or represents more than 30 per cent of the present second preferred stock. To effect the recapitalization plan it must be assented to by holders of at least 75 per cent of outstanding shares of each class of stock.

The plan proposes to modify the Railway's charter to permit issuance of new 5 per cent first preferred of $100 par, cumulative to 15 per cent; new non-cumulative 4 per cent second preferred to $100 par, and new common shares of $25 par.

LaGrange said the Western Maryland for years past has fully earned its $7 cumulative first preferred dividend plus its $4 second preferred dividend on an annual basis, but has taken no steps to reduce the arrearages on the senior securities "so that junior holders might share in the very high earnings."

Lane, McKeldin Rib Each Other

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11 (AP)—Maryland's two gubernatorial candidates smiled jovially at each other over luncheon plates today, shadow-boxed at political issues for some 300 clubwomen, then went their seperate ways to campaign at a less subtle place.

Attorney General Hall Hammond and State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes also addressed the Women's Civic League of Baltimore, but with Hammond's Republican opponent absent and Tawes unopposed, interest centered on the verbal jousting of Gov. Lane and Theodore R. McKeldin.

Each speaker was given five minutes. Both Lane and McKeldin liberalized that requirement by several minutes.

Lane, Democrat, reviewed his main campaign forte—his record of roads, schools and hospitals improvement.

McKeldin, Republican, used his allotted time—and more—almost wholly by naming off the appointments he made while Baltimore mayor from 1943 to 1947. His aim, he said, was to show he forgot political lines and picked the best men regardless of political party.

The list he read was scattered liberally with Democrats.

McKeldin turned to the Governor to apologize for exceeding the time limit.

"You can stay here all day if you keep naming these good Democrats you appointed," the Governor replied.

Weather

Cumberlanders are beginning to learn that they must "make hay while the sun shines," and they also must have learned what to do when it rains, for the clear, blue skies of Tuesday again turned to cloudy-gray last night and .02 of an inch of rain fell before midnight. The temperatures varied but little from a low of 49 degrees to a high of 68 degrees in Constitution Park. Downtown the low was 52 degrees and the high was 72 degrees. If you like rain, this morning will be your day, so says the weatherman; but if you like sunshine, sleep until noon, for the forecast predicts a sunny afternoon today. It should be cooler tonight.

Beall, Gunter Complete Tour Of Montgomery

Visit To Frederick County Opens Today

State candidates on the Republican ticket will begin a two-day tour of Frederick County early today, with a GOP rally scheduled tonight at the Brunswick Fire Hall.

This was reported last night by William A. Gunter, local attorney who is the Republican candidate for Maryland attorney general.

Gunter and Rep. J. Glenn Beall, Frostburg, who is seeking re-election to the House of Representatives from the Sixth District, were guest speakers yesterday at the annual luncheon meeting of the Montgomery County Federation of Republican Women.

The meeting was held at the Glendale Country Club, near Bethesda.

Gunter told the 142 persons attending that attendance at night mass meetings held recently by state GOP candidates in Baltimore, St. Mary's and Calvert Counties "indicated widespread interest in the coming election and presaged a Republican victory in November."

Reviews Spending

He commented that the meetings were largely attended not only by Republicans but by supporters of George P. Mahoney, who was defeated for governor in the Democratic primary.

Beall reviewed Democratic federal extravagance in non-essential expenditures which he said are "mounting higher and higher."

The Frostburg legislator added:

"If the brakes to overspending are not applied by a new Republican Congress, the take-home pay of the working man, already reduced by recent federal legislation, will have to be further reduced in the not too distant future."

Following the luncheon meeting, Beall and Gunter visited a number of Republican and independent Democratic leaders in Bethesda, Rockville, Gaithersburg, Hyattstown and Urbana.

The Montgomery County leaders gave assurance of their support and predicted a complete Republican sweep in November, Gunter reported.

Sidelight Noted

An interesting sidelight was revealed, Gunter said, when independent Democratic leaders were asked whether the six-month feud between the factions of Mahoney and his Democratic opponent, Gov. William Preston Lane, had healed.

"They only smiled and said 'We'll be able to tell you more about that after the November votes have been counted,'" Gunter related.

Early this morning Beall and Gunter will meet Theodore R. McKeldin, GOP candidate for governor, and John Marshall Butler, U. S. Senate candidate, in Frederick.

The group will tour Frederick County today, attend the Brunswick rally tonight and complete the tour tomorrow, returning home Saturday for a weekend rest.

Materials Are Ordered For Street Work

Department Hears Talk On Safety

Equipment and materials needed for work of the Street Department this winter and next spring have been ordered, Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder said yesterday.

They include lumber for forms, rock salt and "banox", mixture to spread on snowy streets which prevents automobiles from rusting; and cold patch, a material used to patch holes in streets during winter weather.

Guard rails for Niagara Street and Central Avenue are also on order.

As time permits, Mrs. Roeder said, work is continuing on cleaning and repairing alleys and cleaning the 1,100 catch basins on city streets.

Streets Restored

A good deal of time has been required in recent months to restore streets after work has been done on water mains and gas lines.

The department has purchased a battery charger which will save both time and money in servicing the fleet of 36 cars and trucks, Mrs. Roeder said.

A local contractor has started work on reroofing the city warehouse at Valley Street, and a contract will be let soon for resurfacing sections of five streets.

Extension of First Street is continuing and part of the interceptor sewer in the downtown section between Pershing and Baltimore Streets is being cleaned.

This winter, Mrs. Roeder said, the department plans to start construction of a Michigan Avenue sewer, for which plans have been approved by the State Department of Health.

Any paving work which can be financed through the revolving fund will be done next spring.

Other current work of the Street Department includes trimming dead wood and branches from trees to eliminate hazardous conditions on public streets.

All equipment has been removed from Riverside Park and stored to make way for flood control work in that area.

These projects were reported by Mrs. Roeder at a recent lunch hour conference with Street Department employes at the city warehouse.

Safety Talk Given

Guest speaker was Lynn Walker, safety director of the State Industrial Accident Commission, who said Cumberland is the second city in Maryland to institute a safety program for city employes.

Walker cited safety procedures to use on the job and pointed out that safety training can be carried over into home life.

The safety official said that "keeping your mind on the job" is one of the most important points to remember, adding that safety is merely a matter of using common sense.

Any dangerous conditions should be reported to supervisors, he added.

Mrs. Roeder said safety equipment such as goggles is already on order and that the department is holding safety meetings.

In addition, a Red Cross film on first aid is being secured through the co-operation of Mrs. Lee W. Witherup, executive secretary of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross.

The film will be shown at a department meeting as soon as it is available. Selected representatives of tht department, possibly foremen, will be asked to take a Red Cross first aid course, Mrs. Roeder said.

Spotters Meeting Today

The Oldtown Airplane Spotters will hold a meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in Oldtown High School Auditorium, according to Ross Shaw, chief observer. Shaw will give instructions at the meeting to all volunteer members.

Three "Elijah" Soloists Are Known In City Music Circles

Three of four soloists selected by the Cumberland Choral Society for leads in Mendelsohn's "Elijah" will be well known to Cumberland music lovers when they return for the performance Tuesday night.

Probably the best known of the trio is Miss Barbara Troxell, soprano, who has been taking leading roles in local music events for the past 11 years. She will soon join the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Others scheduled to return are Anne Dawson, contralto, who sings regularly at the First Presbyterian Church, New York City, and William Maun, who has sung a number of leading roles with the National Broadcasting Company's Opera Theater.

The fourth soloist, Thomas Johnson, will be coming here for the first time, but he already has a record of achievement with the NBC television theater show and is soloist at the Middle Collegiate Church in New York.

Jack Platt, director of the choral society, said Miss Troxell may be making her last appearance here. She begins rehearsals with the New York Metropolitan Company October 20, a few days after singing here.

Maun will sing the leading role in the Jewish oratorio which tells the story of one of the prophets. He will be supported by a 75-voice chorus made up of Choral Society members.

THOMAS JOHNSON

Rabbi Herbert J. Wilner of B'er Chayim Congregation will read the historic prologue while Aden Lewis will accompany at the piano and Joseph D. Derry will accompany at the organ.

The performance which marks the opening of the Choral Society's fall an winter concert season will be held in Allegany High School. Curtain time is 8 p. m.
